Trembley Brothers of Cambridge Burned to Death in Early Morning Fire

Parents, Two Sisters and Another Brother Escape—Cause of Fire a Mystery

CAMBRIDGE, May 10.—Four brothers were burned to death early today in a fire which destroyed their home. Starting near the front of the house, the flames blocked the only exit from the attic rooms occupied by the youths, who were found dead when reached by firemen. They are: Ledger, 21; Ernest, 19; Warren, 14, and Lester Trembley, 12.

Other members of the family and occupants of the house were rescued. The fire was discovered by two street car employees who had made unsuccessful efforts to reach the attic before the firemen arrived. These men aroused Mr. and Mrs. Justin Trembley, parents of the brothers, their two daughters and another son who occupied rooms on the second floor. Occupants of the first floor were awakened by a milkman.

The cause of the fire was undetermined. The building, a two and one-half-story wooden structure, was damaged but not destroyed.

Postponement

At the very last minute it seems advisable to postpone the monthly luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce, from Wednesday, May 11th, to Wednesday, May 18th, as the speaker, Mr. Vorenberg, together with Mr. Mitton and Mr. Bacon have been called to Washington for a conference with the taxation committee. They, however, will be sure and be present on May 18th, with additional information from Washington, and speak on this very important subject.

Commerce Chamber Prepares to Train Initiative Guns on Municipal Council

Expected Referendum Will Be Submitted to Members Tomorrow Noon

No Change of Plans as Result of Vote to Hold Hearing

The scent of battle was in the air in the chamber of commerce rooms today as preparations were made for what may develop into one of the most stirring and interesting pieces of warfare ever waged in the political and civic annals of Lowell. The chamber has picked up the fighting gauge thrown down, it is claimed, contemptuously by the municipal council at its meeting last week when resolutions having the unanimous approval of the board of directors were presented to the city fathers calling for the more economical construction of streets by placing the work in the hands of private contractors. The aldermen, without pausing for the formalities of a formal vote, cast the resolutions into a neatly excavated grave in the "files" after, it is asserted, Street Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy had been given a chance previous to the meeting.

WAR HERO FOUND DEAD

Body of Capt. McGilvary Found With Bullet Wound Over Eye, in Boston

Circumstances Indicate Suicide—Had Been Decorated by Italy for Bravery in War

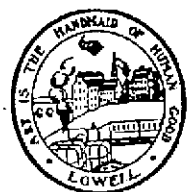

BOSTON, May 10.—Capt. Paton McGilvary, hero of several notable bombing raids as an American flyer with Italian forces in the world war, was found dead in the rear of a garage in the Back Bay district today. He had been shot over the left eye. An automatic pistol and bullets discharged and loaded lay nearby. Medical Examiner Leary said the circumstances indicated suicide, but that investigation would be thorough.

Capt. McGilvary who had been decorated with the Italian war cross for bravery, had entered the commercial aviation field in New England after the war. His venture, however, was said to have resulted in financial losses. His health was impaired and he went to the woods for a rest.

His body bore only the forehead wound, although at least two shots were fired. This fact, together with

BRUSH AND GRASS FIRE
A stubborn brush and grass fire in a vacant lot in Fowler road, off Varnum avenue, kept firemen busy the greater part of this morning, and shortly after noon they were recalled by an alarm from Box 78. MAYOR MAKES A STATEMENT

Objects to Action Taken on Commerce Chamber's Request During His Absence

Resolution Passed to Give Hearing on Subject Next Friday Evening

Former Employees of Gas Company Appeal to Council for Assistance

With all members voting in the affirmative, the municipal council this morning took from the table the communication addressed to the council by the board of directors of the Lowell chamber of commerce, relative to street paving by contract and then voted to hold a public hearing on the matter in the aldermanic chamber at 7:30 o'clock on Friday evening of this week.

This action followed a statement to the members of the council by Mayor Perry D. Thompson, in which he stressed the grave importance of the matter as an economical and sound business proposition.

The mayor moved that the commissioner of streets and highways be directed to call for bids for the pavement of Chelmsford street with permanent paving, in accordance with specifications furnished by the engineering department, specifying that Lowell labor shall be employed with the exception of necessary general supervision of the work.

Commissioner Murphy offered an amendment to this motion saving Friday.

French Officials Expect Germany to Accept all of the Allied Demands

News From Berlin Reaching Paris Indicates Affirmative Action—Time Up May 12

PARIS, May 10.—(By the Associated Press)—News received from Berlin today led French official circles to expect that Germany would accept all the ultimatum conditions.

The time for Germany to give a categorical answer to the allied repatriation demands expires at midnight Thursday. The terms, in the main, call for payment of approximately $33,750,000,000, and fulfillment of various other requirements of the treaty of Versailles, including the disarmament clauses. Failure to accept is to be followed by allied occupation of the industrial region of the Ruhr valley.

Trouble With Railroads Is Excessive Operating Expenses, Says Kruttschnitt

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The trouble with the railroads is excessive operating expenses, an abnormal amount of which is the cost of labor, Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of the Southern Pacific railroad, declared today before the senate interstate commerce committee. He was the first witness at the opening of the congressional investigation into the transportation situation.

Suggests Five Remedies

He suggested five remedies which he said were easily applied and productive of great economies. They are: "Stop the use for common carrier purposes of highways built with public money without adequate tolls and proper regulations." "Make inland waterways built or improved at public expense carry themselves as to interest on cost and maintenance by regulating the common carrier traffic on them and by imposing adequate tolls."

"Keep the United States government out of the business of operating steamships and stop the lavish expenditure of public money to provide coast to coast ocean transportation in competition with transcontinental railroads."

"Tolls for use of the Panama canal should be sufficient to pay interest on its cost, operating expenses and maintenance."

"Do not deprive transcontinental carriers of coast to coast traffic by inflexibly enforcing a strict long and short haul clause."

Analyst Propaganda

In opening his statement, Mr. Kruttschnitt said: "Widespread propaganda is being carried on to arouse public sentiment against existing freight rates. The fact is that even since the rates have

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

TELLS SAFE, SIMPLE WAY TO TREAT AND RELIEVE AT HOME

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by inflammation of the pharynx or throat and have caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your drug store a ounce of Permut (double strength). Take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar, stir well and take 4 or 5 tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easier, the distressing head noises, clouding thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Catarrh of the throat, deafness, hearing and mucus drooping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly 90 per cent. of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh and they must be removed by people whose hearing may be restored by this simple, harmless, home treatment.—Adv.

SAYS CHARGES AGAINST GRAIN EXCHANGE FALSE

PEORIA, Ill., May 10.—Charges against the nation's grain exchanges are in the main baseless and have resulted from a prejudiced condition which has been created among the farmers through dissemination of false doctrine, Joseph P. Griffin, president of the Chicago board of trade said today in an address before the Illinois Grain Dealers' association.

He declared that some farmers' organizations had become so prejudiced that they sought to paralyze the country without providing any substitute. He asserted that the exchanges were controlled entirely by the law of supply and demand.

Toucing on the futures market, he said the economic value of hedging, or price insurance, was undisputed and that the necessity of a futures market in which to hedge the farmers' grain was recognized.

"No conservative bank will make an unsecured loan to a small grain dealer who does not hedge his holdings, because a slump might wipe out his entire investment," he said. "The banker loans his money to business men, not speculators. Unprotected grain is a speculation."

"Elimination of the futures market means destruction of the economic functions of the grain exchanges; it means larger margins between producer and consumer and it involves the danger of price control."

The German people's party, by a vote of 55 to 5, rejected the proposition. The democrats were in session at midnight.

As the independent socialists have already favored yielding to the allies, it is believed there will be a sufficient majority in the reichstag for acceptance of the ultimatum.

Paul Loebe, of the majority socialists and president of the reichstag, will be commissioned by President Ebert with the task of forming a new cabinet.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Advises indicating that Germany would accept the reparations ultimatum of the allies stiffened the local foreign exchange market today.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE IN THE POLICE COURT

First Reports in Fund Campaign Will Be Made Tomorrow

The first reports in the campaign to raise $15,000 for the support of the Lowell home of the Salvation army will be made tomorrow noon at a meeting of the team workers and general committee at the chamber of commerce rooms, the campaign headquarters, in Merrimack square. According to the officials in charge, very gratifying reports are expected at this meeting and there is every indication that the campaign will be completed with the desired quota raised within a week.

However, this can be accomplished only by the co-operation of the general public. The money will have to come from the small contributions of many rather than from large donations on the part of a few.

This noon at the regular meeting of the Lowell Rotary club, an organization which, by the way, did splendid work in the last Salvation army campaign held here, the members were addressed by Col. William E. McIntyre, provisional director of the New England section. His daughter, Irene, who is also a Salvation army worker, was also present.

Those who intend to contribute but who have not yet been approached by solicitors are asked not to delay their donations but to send them at once either to the campaign headquarters at 7 Merrimack square or to Julian B. Hayes, campaign treasurer, at the Merchants Savings bank.

C.V.M.L. FARMERS' BALL

One of the leading social events of the year, the annual Farmers' ball, conducted under the auspices of the Catholic Young Men's league, will be held in Associate hall Friday evening, May 12. As in former years, there will be six prizes awarded, three to the ladies and three to the gentlemen for the most original, funniest and best dressed characters. The committee expects quite a bit of competition for prizes this year and extends an invitation to all clubs in the city to participate in the contest. Miner Doyle's orchestra has been secured for the evening and dancing will continue all night long. The officers of the dance are as follows: General manager, Martin H. Glynn; assistant general managers, James H. Walsh and Joseph H. Kelly; floor director, James J. Bruhn; assistant floor director, Michael A. War Hero Found Dead

A disturbed condition of the ground nearby, led to more thorough investigation than usual. Only one of the night garage employees in the vicinity where the body was found remembered having heard anything resembling a pistol shot. It was his recollection that he heard two reports early this morning, but at the time thought they were due from the back of an automobile.

The body was removed to the South End mortuary, where an autopsy was performed by the medical examiner.

McGilvary, when he came back from war, wore the Italian military cross, the Croix de Guerre, and the Golden Crown and Wings, the latter an Italian decoration conferred on the first group of American aviators to reach the Italian front. He was born in Berkeley, Cal., 24 years ago, and was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1916. Enlisting at the outbreak of the war, he reached the highest stage of his flying career when he piloted giant Caproni bombing planes on raiding expeditions from Italy. After the war, McGilvary was one of a group of fliers who gave exhibitions at Cleveland and other cities.

Assault and Battery Case Consumes Greater Part of Today's Session

The cases of Harold Fairbrother, charged with assault on Harry Osman, consumed the greater part of this morning's session of police court and during the course of the testimony it was brought out that games of "banker" in which sums of money ranging from $5 and $10 to $20 and $50 are won and lost, are played almost daily by employees of a local mill during their noon hour.

The trouble in which Fairbrother was involved arose over a dispute during one of these games. Fairbrother testified that he sought to protect a fellow employee from assault by Osman, while the latter maintained that his actions were confined merely to "tongue fighting." The court found Fairbrother guilty and ordered him to pay costs.

Another long-drawn-out case at this morning's session was that of Henry, George, Fred and Louis Emond and Della Labelle, charged with unreasonable neglect of their destitute father, aged 75 years.

It was brought out that the father is now confined to St. John's hospital and that there has been some disagreement among the children as to his support. Several factions have developed in the family, it was testified, and after considerable discussion, an arrangement was agreed upon whereby each of the children should support his or her part to support the father.

When the case of Joseph Berube, Delia Berube and Julia Marquis, each charged with drunkenness, was called, Officer Alfred Conroy of the vice squad, testified that the house conducted by the Berubes in Lewis street was one of notorious character and that more complaints had been received about it than any other place in Lowell. He testified that the defendants had been warned four times in the last year by the police, but that little had been paid to the warning. It was testified by Agent Richardson of the Humane society, that there is a little girl in the house who is being neglected and that Saturday so that further investigation may be made.

The case of Joan Mullin, charged jointly with Harvey Jacobs, with the receipt of $250 from George Spence on April 15, was continued until May 12.

Michael J. Murray, charged with the non-support of his wife and two minor children since April 1, was given a suspended sentence of four months to the house of correction and ordered to go to work at once. "There's a job waiting for you and many men would like the chance to get it," said Judge Enright in finding him guilty.

John A. Smith, found guilty of drunkenness, was given a sentence of one month to the house of correction. Samuel Paul, arraigned on a similar charge, was given a suspended sentence to the state farm.

The case of Anthony Medina, charged with non-support, was continued to Friday.

Charles H. Abbott, charged with drunkenness, pleaded not guilty and the court announced that there had been issued a capias for him on a charge of non-support. His case was continued to Saturday.

PREMIER STORY IN N. Y.

Expresses Hope That U. S. Will Back England and France on Reparations

NEW YORK, May 10.—Hope that the United States would stand fast with England in backing France in its determination to secure full reparations from Germany was expressed by Premier John Story of New South Wales, who arrived yesterday aboard the steamship Cedric, en route home after a visit in England. He said he was glad the United States had decided to sit in the reparations council.

The government of New South Wales, the premier added, planned the building of a bridge across Sydney harbor, a project to cost three million pounds and the construction of a subway system for railway, tramway and vehicular traffic to cost 16,000,000. American contractors would be asked for bids on the latter project, he said.

DENY RECOGNITION OF DEBATE ACTIVITIES OF SOVIET RUSSIA

LONDON, May 10.—There has been no formal recognition of the soviet government of Russia by Great Britain and the situation with reference to recognition has not changed since the conclusion of the preliminary Anglo-Russian trading agreement, the foreign office announced today. It was stated in the house of commons when the negotiation of that agreement was announced that it was tantamount to recognition, although it was not recognition in the regular diplomatic sense of the word.

BIG MEAT PACKING PLANT IS CLOSED

BUENOS AIRES, May 10.—The meat packing plant of the Palmas Produccion Co., at Campana, largely controlled by the British government, has been closed indefinitely as a result of a strike of the workmen. The shutdown followed a general strike in Campana, affecting a number of shops and factories, including the refineries of the West India Oil Co. The produce company warned its workmen that if they did not return to work Monday the plant would be closed as the result of orders from London.

FRENCH-AMERICAN REPUBLICAN CLUB

A number of Lowell men were chosen officers of the French-American Republican club of Massachusetts at the annual meeting of the organization held yesterday at the New American House in Boston. Oliver J. Smith, of this city, was re-elected first vice president and Elzeur J. Laroche, also of this city, secretary. Among the Lowell members chosen for the executive committee were Dr. A. J. Gagnon and Representative Henry Achin. Dr. Gagnon, who was re-elected president, presided at yesterday's meeting.

ENTERTAINMENT BY MUSICAL COMPANY

Lowell lovers of delightful musical comedy and devotees of the immortal Robert Burns and his poems will be interested in the entertainment to be given next Friday evening in Colonial hall by the Scottish Musical Comedy company, presenting a rare evening's entertainment based on Burns' celebrated poem, "A Cotter's Saturday Night." The Notre Dame de Namur Alumnae association is the sponsor of the affair and the production company has been heretofore far and wide as capable, enjoyable and entertaining as the players. On the occasion of its recent appearance in Pawtucket, R. I., the Times of that city said: "Scotch has such singing been heard in this city. The dialogue was witty and opportunity was given for telling Scotch stories, but the sketch is used mainly as a vehicle for the introduction of Scottish songs." Tickets are on sale at Steiner's.

SEDITIONOUS ACTIVITIES

Reds Direct Propaganda
Towards Students, Negroes
and Union Labor

NEW YORK, May 10.—The complete report of the joint legislative committee investigating seditious activities was made public yesterday. A preliminary report was made to the legislature on April 20, 1920, and other findings of the committee were revealed during the hearings that led to the ousting of five socialist assemblymen by the assembly last summer. New matter developed since that time is incorporated in the four volumes of one thousand pages each, now published.

The authors, popularly known as the "Lusk Committee," for the reason that the chairman was State Senator Clayton R. Lusk, conclude that revolutionary radicals have sought to further their aims through personal propaganda, directing their efforts chiefly toward college students, negroes, and union labor. American colleges, it is charged, are honeycombed with avowed socialist professors whose teachings are Bolshevism and subversive of democratic ideals and institutions. "While the negro in general has been well treated in New York state," the report says, "the ill-treatment accorded him in other parts of the country has engendered a spirit of resentment which has been kept alive by the agents and agitators of the socialist party of America, the Industrial Workers of the World and other radical groups."

This spirit also has been encouraged by well-to-do liberals who have taken an active part in social uplift organizations. The report says that "union labor is being incessantly impregnated with radical doctrines."

What purport to be facsimile copies of letters from prominent Americans to socialist, pacifist and pro-German leaders are published with the explanation that the letters speak for themselves and the committee does not seek to question the motives of the writers.

The report also treats exhaustively the growth of radicalism in the principal countries of the world from the Karl Marx manifesto of 1848 to the present day.

$5,000,000 IN GOLD FROM GREAT BRITAIN

NEW YORK, May 10.—Shipment of $5,000,000 gold said to be the first of a series to be made by Great Britain to aid in the retirement of its 5½ per cent. bonds maturing November 1 in this market, has arrived here, consigned to J. P. Morgan & Co., fiscal agents here for the English government. The gold came aboard the steamship Mauritania. It came unannounced other than for an accompanying letter from the Bank of England.

In addition to the Morgan consignment, the Mauritania brought $3,000,000 gold to another banking house. The flow of gold into the United States during the last month approximated $50,000,000 making the total since the first of the year in excess of $231,000,000.

J. LEWIS ELLSWORTH DEAD
WORCESTER, May 10.—J. Lewis Ellsworth, former secretary of the Massachusetts state board of agriculture, died today after a short illness.

Physician Explains Why People Become Weak, Anaemic, Nervous and Run Down

Former Member of Philadelphia Health Department Discusses This Important Subject

"The reason why persons who are weak, anaemic, nervous and run-down have gotten into that condition is because they are so constituted that they use up their vital energy and nerve force quicker than their bodies can replace it." So spoke Dr. George M. Lipinski, formerly on the Philadelphia, Pa., department of health and for many years a practicing physician in that city, when interviewed recently.

"Their systems fail to extract from the food they eat and retain in sufficient quantity those mineral elements without which the body is absolutely unable to create vital energy and nerve force. And so they go on expending day by day, their vital energy without adequately replenishing the supply until their systems become completely run-down, their blood gets impoverished and their nerves are unstrung. The mineral elements which are essential in the creation of vital energy are particularly calcium, potassium, sodium, phosphorus and iron. And these elements must be administered to those patients whose systems do not extract them in sufficient quantity in the natural way from their food. That is why I always recommend Wincarnis for weak, anaemic, nervous and run-down patients. For Wincarnis contains all of these vitally necessary elements in a form that enables the system to readily assimilate them and which is acceptable to the most delicate stomach."

Dr. Lipinski is only one of the more than 1,000 physicians who have found Wincarnis invaluable in such cases and have spoken and written in the greatest praise of the preparation. And many, many thousands of persons, grateful for the health and strength Wincarnis gave them when they were weak and worn out have vouched for its remarkable virtues as a tonic, restorative and bloodmaker. The statements of some of these persons will be published from time to time in the columns of this newspaper.

Wincarnis is put in two sizes—$1.10 and $1.65. It is sold in Lowell by Dr. Harris at the Lowell drug store, and all other first class drug stores. Write for free instructive booklet, "Hundred Percent Health, How to Obtain It," Edward Lassar, Inc., 100 West 23d street, New York, U. S. Agents for Wincarnis.—Adv.

$105,000 TO BERGDOLLS

Treasury Turned Over Gold to Mother of Draft Evader and Friend

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The fact was established yesterday, through W. L. Alexander, a clerk in the treasury department, by the house committee investigating the escape of Grover C. Bergdoll, that the mother of the draft dodger and a friend actually obtained $105,000 in gold from the treasury in the fall of 1919. But from there the trail was not uncovered by the committee to the buried pot in the mountains of Maryland.

James Romig, formerly a police magistrate of Philadelphia, and now awaiting sentence on conviction of conspiracy to aid Bergdoll in evading the draft, was the agent, Alexander said, through whom $45,000, the first batch of gold, was obtained and carried away.

On his second trip to Washington Romig was accompanied by Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll, also awaiting sentence for conspiracy, and together they drove to Philadelphia with $60,000 in gold tucked beneath their feet.

Had Trouble Getting Gold

When he made his first visit to the treasury, Romig found clerks unwilling to turn over even $20,000 on their own responsibility, and Alexander said, he fumed about the corridors until his application was laid before R. C. Leffingwell, then an assistant secretary, and approved. This amount was given in exchange for gold certificates, but once it had been placed within an automobile Romig went back for more. There was some delay, according to the witness, clerks refusing to make a second exchange on the one order, but in the end Romig got the gold.

There was no embargo at that time on the withdrawal of government gold, but the policy of the department, as explained by Alexander, was to keep it in the vaults whenever possible.

Three weeks after his first visit, Romig returned with Mrs. Bergdoll. It was brought out that at the very moment the woman was at the treasury, big posters were displayed everywhere offering a reward for the capture of Bergdoll, the deserter.

Romig, satisfied with the results of his first trip, pushed a bundle of bills, almost as big as a box, through the wicket window and after some delay, Alexander said, and with the approval of the treasurer, struggled down the corridors with more gold than a stevedore could lift, $60,000, mostly eagles.

What became of the treasure after the Romig-Bergdoll party left Washington was not brought out at the six-hour session yesterday.

Sure Bergdoll Had Gold

Counsel for Bergdoll already had told the committee they were convinced the gold had been taken from the treasury and buried.

The gold chapter was related just after Major General March, chief of staff of the army, had given his views on the subject of getting Bergdoll back from Germany to serve his five-year sentence, and had declared that diplomatic moves now are under way to get him. Bergdoll was described as a "bad specimen of deserter" by the

Kidney and Bladder Troubles Conquered Or Money Back

For 45 years, said Dr. Carey, I have been prescribing Marshroot for kidney and bladder sickness and now that I have retired from active practice I have made arrangements with leading druggists to dispense this wonderful prescription at a moderate price on the money back if dissatisfied plan.

Because of kidney diseases—thousands die of it every year. It is the danger of life. Watch the symptoms. If you have specks floating before the eyes, puffiness, clayey feet or moist, itchy skin or sideache, you ought to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's Marshroot right away.

It has wonderfully benefited tens of thousands of cases of kidney and bladder trouble and in the medicine you can always depend upon. Results are guaranteed.

Dr. J. H. Carey was a practicing physician for many years and his great prescription, Marshroot, added thousands of sufferers from kidney and bladder trouble. general, who frankly said that he would not have apologized had Americans succeeded in their efforts to kidnap him on German soil.

The department made continuous efforts to capture Bergdoll, Gen. March said, adding:

"The efforts of those men in Germany to land him by any means have our entire and utmost sympathy."

"The committee went into executive session to discuss the German phase of the Bergdoll case with Gen. Allen. Gen. March was asked if Brig. Gen. Henry T. Allen, commanding at Coblenz, had been censured for apologizing to German authorities for the attempt to kidnap Bergdoll.

"He was not," he replied. "The action of Gen. Allen was entirely correct from the standpoint of international law."

Other witnesses were Edward S. Bailey, law partner of Samuel T. Ansell, ex-acting judge advocate general of the army and counsel for Bergdoll, and Col. Julius A. Penn, assistant to Major Gen. Harris, adjutant general of the army.

Mr. Bailey, concluding his testimony, referred to Judge John W. Wescott, of New Jersey, discussed plans for the expedition to the mountains before the escape. Judge Wescott had testified that he knew nothing of any so-called buried treasure until he read it in the newspapers after Bergdoll had eluded his military guard at Philadelphia a year ago.

Wanted Officer in Party

Col. Penn declared he had suggested to the commandant of the disciplinary barracks at Governor's Island that a commissioned officer be placed in charge of the guard accompanying Bergdoll to the mountains, and that the suggestion "practically amounted to an order. When Ansell applied to Gen. Harris for a party to guard Bergdoll to make the search, Col. Penn said, the adjutant general said it was "a reasonable request by a responsible lawyer," and the witness added that it so appeared to him at the time.

Gen. March declared that when Gen. Harris brought up the Ansell request he only glanced at it, and that it was approved by the later, who had full authority in such matters. "But when the word reached him of the escape, the military machinery was set in motion at once in the effort to capture the convict."

Chairman Peters brought out that while the Bergdoll gold hunting expedition was to proceed direct from Governor's Island, N. Y., to Hagerstown, Md., by way of North Philadelphia, the military forces were not notified that Bergdoll had been permitted to stop over at Philadelphia, his mother's home.

Mr. Bailey declared that the late D. Clarence Gibboney of Philadelphia, Bergdoll's attorney, was responsible for the stop-over and the first word received from Gibboney regarding the change in the plan was the announcement that the prisoner was missing.

"Ansell was the guiding spirit in this litigation, was he not?" the witness was asked.

"Not exactly that. Mr. Ansell was selected because of his familiarity with military law. Ansell had confidence in Gibboney and none of us had reason to doubt his standing."

"Since Ansell had confidence in Gibboney and Gen. Harris had confidence in Ansell, wasn't the result one of mistaken confidence?"

"I think myself there has been misplaced confidence, or at least poor

HIGH COST OF LIVING COMING DOWN

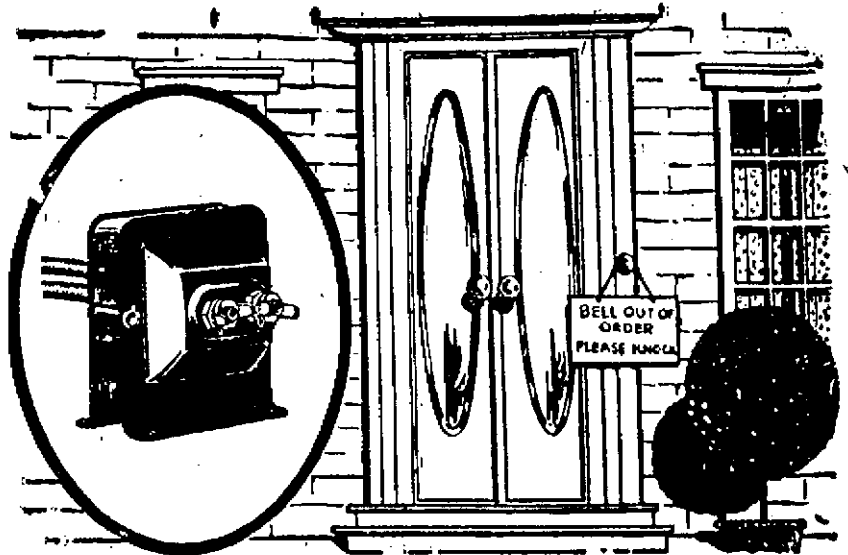

One of the most prominent commodities in the high cost of living that is lower in price, is that of food, which is a blessing to the majority of people, as they will soon be able to afford better meals, but what good is a fine meal if you suffer from indigestion and stomach troubles. You can easily be relieved of these disorders and keep your stomach and digestive organs healthy by taking SIVEN BARKS, nature's remedy of roots and herbs.

The stomach is where digestion begins, but the most important work is done by the liver, liver and kidneys—failure of these to act efficiently allows the whole body to be poisoned and it results in lead to serious trouble. But if you will take from 10 to 20 drops of SIVEN BARKS in a little water after meals, you can eat and enjoy your favorite food without fear of serious results.

Stomach disorders, if neglected, lead to kidney and bladder troubles; if you are compelled to arise from your chamber once or twice during the night, have dark rings around the eyes, feet or legs swell, palpitation of the heart, it proves your kidneys are affected. SIVEN BARKS will relieve you and keep you well. Ask your druggist for it. Price 60 cents.—Adv.

judgment," Bailey replied. "If Gibboney had not been sure of Bergdoll's acquittal, then he was the most consummate actor I ever saw."

Reverting to Judge Wescott's testimony that he knew nothing about the pot of gold story prior to the escape, Gen. John H. Sherburne, counsel for the committee, asked:

"Was the gold mentioned at the conference with Judge Wescott, at which plans were discussed for the release to hunt it?"

"Why, absolutely?" Mr. Bailey replied. "There was no question about it. Judge Wescott was there all the time we were talking about it."

FAILS IN ATTEMPT TO ARRANGE SETTLEMENT

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Representatives of the Marine Workers' organizations left Washington today as a result of the announcement of Secretary Davis that his efforts to arrange a settlement of the wage dispute between the workers and the ship owners had been unavailing and that no further conferences would be held at this time.

Officials of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association declared that no concessions would be made beyond those presented to Mr. Davis and Admiral Benson of the shipping board yesterday. These proposals, based on a vote being taken among locals at all ports, were not made public. Chairman Benson is understood to have reiterated his stand for a flat 15 per cent wage reduction.

Secretary Davis indicated that negotiations would be reopened later if circumstances warranted such a step.

STATE COUNCIL K. OF C. OPENS CONVENTION

BOSTON, May 10.—Massachusetts state council, Knights of Columbus, will open its 25th annual convention today at the Hotel Somerset, with 140 councilmen, represented by 300 delegates, taking part.

The meeting opened at 9 o'clock this morning with the celebration of mass in St. Cecilia's church. At the conclusion the delegates adjourned to the Hotel Somerset, where the business session was opened by Judge William J. Day, state deputy.

Judge Day will preside at a state convention for the last time, having declined to be a candidate for re-election. He will be succeeded by William C. Prout, the present state secretary, the only candidate for the office, who will probably be elected by a unanimous vote. District Deputy Edward J.

Brayton of Cambridge is the single candidate for state secretary.

The chief contest in the convention will be the election of the eight delegates to the supreme convention, which will be held in August in San Francisco. Eleven candidates had announced their intention of entering the field last evening, and the number will probably be increased before the voting is under way.

The candidates thus far are Hugh J. McMahon and James A. Sullivan of Boston; John E. Donahue of Dorchester; William T. Callahan of Turner Falls; G. Fred Dill of Westfield; Jeremiah J. Foley of Whitinsville; William F. Kelley of Jamaica Plain; Thomas A. Haggerty of North Adams; Michael F. Kennedy of Natick; Francis P. McKee of Worcester and Sylvester J. McKee of North Attleboro.

Other officers who are opposed in the election are: State treasurer, Thomas P. McGrath of Newburyport; state warden, John S. Quinn of Boston; state auditor, Timothy J. Collins of Northampton; state advocate, James E. Dunne of Springfield.

Recipe Contest Proves Great Success

The Chelmsford recipe contest, for a total of seventy-five dollars in prizes, closed at midnight on April 30th.

A total of seventy-eight entries testified to the popularity of the event. These entries came in from all parts of the wide section of New England where Chelmsford Ginger Ale and Ten Popular Flavors are sold and known.

The seventy-eight entries involved a total of one hundred and twenty-four separate recipes. As each entry was received it was stamped and numbered by the contest manager and locked up. At the end of the time-limit, faithful copies of the recipes were made and each was given a number corresponding to the number on the original. These numbers also serve to establish the order in which the entries were received.

The copies are now in the hands of the judges. None of the judges will know from whom any recipe was received. They will make their awards according to the number on the recipes.

Naturally, with so many recipes to be dealt with, some little time will be required to determine the winners. Every effort is being made to hasten the work and, as soon as the judges reach a decision, full particulars will be published in this newspaper.

Mayor Makes a Statement

any night of this week as the date of public hearing, saying as he did so, that he believed that there was considerable to be said on both sides of the question.

There was not perfect unanimity of action, however, on the order introduced by Commissioner John A. Salmon, that the sum of $20,000 be borrowed for the construction of a fire engine house in the Highlands district. Here, Mayor Thompson reiterated his previous feelings that the cost was excessive and while he favored the site and realized the need of a house of some sort, he did feel that enough money could be saved, by slicing extras in the plans, to buy a piece of apparatus. When the order came up for vote, the mayor was recorded against it, with the four commissioners voting in favor.

William N. Flagg, through his counsel, Stanley E. Qua, petitioned the council that his request for a pension as a call fireman be taken from the table and some action recorded. In an action submitted by the city solicitor, was brought out that Mr. Flagg's petition was not received until after the date he was removed from the force, along with the other culmen, and, therefore, the council had no authority to grant such a pension.

Given Leave to Withdraw

The law states, the solicitor wrote, that the petitioner must hold the position at the time of petition.

On motion of Commissioner Salmon, the petitioner was given leave to withdraw.

A hearing was set for May 17, on the petition of William H. Bamford, a permanent fireman at the Lincoln street house, to be retired. A communication from Dr. Michael A. Tighe, city physician, and another from A. Leo Brett, D., both stated that the petitioner was unfit for active work. Mr. Bamford has been a permanent man on the force since 1917.

When the order to borrow $20,000 for the construction of the Highlands fire house was reached, Mayor Thompson said he had expressed himself as opposed to the expenditure of such a large sum of money at previous meetings, and felt that same way now.

Believes Cost Too Great

"Although I favor a house on the site elected," said the mayor, "I believe the cost is too great. It seems to me that not including the apparatus to be purchased, we are planning for too expensive a building. That is my only objection to the passage of the order. I feel, also, that extras can be taken out of the plans to such a degree that enough money can be saved to purchase a piece of apparatus."

Commissioner Salmon replied that he has been over the plans very carefully and he could not see any opportunity for curtailment without damaging the appearance of the house in such a residential section.

The order then passed, four to one, the mayor voting "no."

Subsequently it was voted to empower the commissioner of water, sewer and fire protection and the commissioner of public property and licenses to enter into contracts with the following firms, who stood as the four bidders in the general contract work, plumbing and electrical work respectively: Frederick F. Meley, $27,462; J. J. O'Hane & Co., $26,471; Charles H. May Co., $491.

The city clerk was ordered to advertise the same.

Mayor Was Absent

Mayor Thompson then asked permission of the council to read a statement relative to an important matter that came up for consideration at last week's meeting.

"I was absent from the last meeting of the council," the mayor said, "being summoned by the government as a witness in the Tullen murder trial, now in progress in East Cambridge."

"At this meeting of the council just referred to, there came up for consideration what I consider was and is a matter of vital importance to all the people of Lowell, the laborer and taxpayer alike. This matter I cannot help but feel was not carefully considered and properly disposed of. I refer to the communication relating to the construction of permanent paving in this city."

"I therefore move that the communication be taken from the table." This was voted unanimously.

Continuing, the mayor said:

Important Matter
"Gentlemen, this is a very important matter, and in a matter of so much importance we cannot shirk our responsibility. The charter plainly states that the policies of every department shall be determined by the municipal council. It is therefore, our duty to act and not to evade."

"It seems to me we have before us a straight forward business proposition which must be treated as such. Fortunately, it harms no one and will, believe, be helpful and beneficial to all."

"My interpretation of this communication is that it is not a question of contract work as against city labor. It is rather a problem of economical street construction, giving our citizens a dollar of value for every dollar spent. Let us find out if our permanent paving can be done more efficiently this way."

"If it can, it does not mean less employment, but more work for our citizens; hundreds of whom we are now unable to employ in any of the city departments."

Favors Lowell Labor

"I would personally oppose any plan that did not provide for the employment of Lowell labor, outside of those necessary for general supervision of the work."

"Our citizens are entitled to the best street construction at as low a cost as possible. I maintain we shall do better by our city employees, laborers and taxpayers in general if we meet this issue squarely and to the right thing on a public viewpoint."

"I therefore believe that we should try the experiment of paving Chelmsford street in this manner. If it is a success, more Lowell laboring men will be employed on our street, thereby relieving to some extent the distressing condition of unemployment now existing in our city, and also pave more streets this year."

"If the cost of our street construction can be cut in half, our duty is plainly before us, we should at least try the experiment, there is no other alternative."

"I move that the commissioner of streets and highways, be directed to call for bids for the pavement of Chelmsford street with permanent pavement, in accordance with specifications."

CHAMPION'S NERVES

Kilbane Tells How They May Slow Up Dempsey

By JOHNNY KILBANE
Featherweight Champion of the World
The fact that one hand has been laid on Dempsey will be working under in his fight with Georges Carpentier on July 2 that few folks will consider.
That is one fact that may have an important bearing on the fight.

That is the fact that he is a champion.
From the moment a man wins a boxing title until the time comes when he is stretched on the mat and the belt passes on, a champion is under a continual strain. Nine years of holding the feather title has put the strain into his hair.

Always in the mind of a champion is a picture of an opponent's fist heading for his jaw with the wallop that will push him off the peak of fame and drop him into the forgotten world of hisetate.

It is a continual state of "nerves."
In his worry over getting into proper condition to meet a challenger he has to be overstrain and be off-color for the fight.

I'm nervous from the time I sign articles to box. I lie awake nights, worrying and planning. But knockout bothers me while I'm in the dressing room and it follows me into the ring.
The applause a champion receives doesn't help much when I sit between the ropes. But it's back full blast when I go out for final instructions.

When Bell Rings
Then comes the bell. Fortunately for me, when I hop out of my corner, I'm able to forget all about the hanging knockout punch and concentrate on the one job of the evening.

But all fighters are not alike in this respect. And the man who can't forget the hanging knockout punch and concentrate on the one job of the evening is not a champion. One is just as likely to run him of his title as the other.

When Dempsey finished Willard in short order at Toledo he had everything to gain and nothing to lose. He went into the fight with a free mind.
He'll meet Carpentier with everything to lose and nothing to gain. His mind will be burdened with the fact that his title is in danger, and unless he can shake that feeling off, it's going to hurt him.

A champion must guard against carelessness. "Friendly enemies" have spoiled many a champ. As soon as a man wins a title, hundreds of good fellows crowd around him seeking his friendship. These fellows keep his head level and his feet on the ground. He is afraid and afraid and afraid until he is sorry and all out of condition.

The mere fact that he is a champion

PLAYERS HANDICAPPED

Lack of Police Protection Interferes With Grammar School Ball Games

With his Grammar School league of 12 teams duly organized and the first series of games already played, Major Walter R. Jeyes, director of the organization, finds himself and the players of the various teams severely handicapped by the lack of police protection on the grounds where the league games are being played.

Although he has appealed to both the police and park department for proper protection, as was as to the major's office, Major Jeyes is still contending with innumerable mischievous lookers-on at every game whose chief delight seems to be to interfere with the progress of the sport and to handicap the players at every opportunity. Inasmuch as the school committee has sanctioned the league, the appointment of two additional instructors to assist Major Jeyes in his work as physical director in the elementary schools, it is felt that the city should be able to furnish proper facilities for playing the games as scheduled.

Five games were played last week with the Edison, Lincoln, Varnum, Barlett and Moody schools winning their contests. The game between the Green and Riverside schools, which was to have been played last Tuesday, was postponed, but will be played at a later date.

The league is divided into three groups and the winners in each of these groups will have a "post-season series" later in the month. The standing of the teams at the close of the first week of play was as follows:

NECK AND NECK TO HOMERVILLE

BABE RUTH (LEFT) AND GEORGE KELLY

By DEAN SNYDER
Babe Ruth is tending his first blood in home run competition.
George Kelly, the high-necked first baseman of the Giants, is racing Babe neck and neck.
Rivalry will have a psychological effect on the King of Homerville.
Big Bam will either thrive on competition or he'll slump back into just an ordinary hitter.
For two years Babe has had no rivalry in his home run manufacturing business. His goal has been simply to increase his own output of merry-pó-round crooks.

He loves the limelight and the cheers
it has brought him.
The same fans are now cheering for another. They are trooping to the parks to see Kelly connect for the route just as they do for Babe.
The Giant slugger is a youngster and a comer.
There is every reason to believe he'll keep ringing up homers all summer long. He takes care of himself like a college athlete. His eye is clear. His nerve for distance hitting is as keen as Babe's.

Kelly crouched at the plate last year.
McGraw ordered him to adopt the stooping style. He hit 11 circuit drives.
This spring he is standing straight.
He's hitting for himself. The crowds call for a homer every time he comes out of the dugout.
Great ball players thrive on competition.
Speaker, Cobb, Sisler, Hornsby—they do their best under fire.
How'll Babe take it?

BRESNAHAN TO RETURN TO GAME

TOLEDO, O., May 16.—The return of Roger Bresnahan to an active participation in a baseball game was announced today by the president of the Toledo club of the American association, announced that his efforts to obtain a suitable replacement had been unavailing. Bresnahan has been out of the game two years and is not in first class condition to take up heavy toil.

He is in Toledo but is expected to join the club in Milwaukee within a day or two.

BOSTON HONOR "RABBIT"

BOSTON, May 16.—Friends of "Rabbit" Marvonne from all parts of New England will gather at Braves Field this afternoon to give the ex-Boston shortstop a welcome as well as gifts which will serve as reminders of the occasion.

Mayor Peters will make the presentation speech on behalf of the Boston friends of Marvonne.

quet in honor of Marvonne at the Quincy House at night.

CHANNEY WINS RIGHT TO MEET JOHNNY KILBANE

Andy Channey, New York featherweight and stabilizer of Joe Lynch, scored his third and final victory in the featherweight elimination tournament conducted by Tex Rickard, when he whaled Sammy Siegel around the ring in every round of a 12-round bout.

Channey's two other victories in the Rickard tournament were his 10 and 11-round referee's decision over Tommy Noble and Eddie Lischer.

Eddie Mead, manager of Channey, is confident that if Johnny Kilbane agrees to meet Channey he will have another world champion in his stable.

The following excerpts from the stories of New York boxing experts reproduced in a letter to The Sun from Eddie Mead:

Hyge Igoo, in the Morning World,
May 13, 1921.
"Andy Channey of Baltimore won the right to a bout with Johnny Kilbane for the world's featherweight title by decisively whipping Sammy Siegel in a 12-round bout.

"Channey had the better of every round except the sixth, landed three blows to his opponent's one and in the eighth had Siegel on the verge of a knockout. A right hand to the chin put Sammy down for the count of two, but he was on his feet directly and by clever blocking and holding on lasted through the round, though Chan-ney punished him severely."

C. F. Matelson, boxing expert New York Sun and Herald:
"Andy Channey, leading challenger for featherweight champion Johnny Kilbane's crown, outpointed Sammy Siegel of this city in a spirited contest that was marred by constant clenching and hugging on the part of Siegel. In violation of the boxing commission edict, Channey was the aggressor and landed the cleanest blow, a right hand to the chin, which sent Siegel down with a right hook to the jaw."
New York Times, May 13, 1921.

Mike Ryane accepts
Sporting Editor of The Sun:
Dear Sir—John Johnson is seeking an aim in the world as a wrestler now with all due respect to Johnson, I shall be delighted to accept his challenge to a finish match upon the agreement of the following terms: That he will post $100 as forfeit for a purse of $500 for two out of three falls match in Lowell any time after July 1st in private.
Very Respectfully,
CHESTER T. HARTIGAN,
Manager of Mike Ryane.

BLOW TO HARVARD
FOOTBALL SQUAD

CAMBRIDGE, May 16.—Only two of the seven men who formed Harvard's line against Yale last year remain available for the crimson eleven next fall, it was learned today. Two men counted on to bolster the line will not be candidates, Wynant Hubbard, right guard, having withdrawn from college and James Tobler, right guard, having decided to take his degree in June.
Tommy Woods, left guard, was graduated in February, and Charles Haver-meyer, center, and Bob Sedgwick, left guard, will be graduated next month.
Captain-elect Keith Kane and Jack Crocker, both ends, will be the only remaining survivors of the "Varsity line."

JABS AND HOOKS
Nate Siegel, New England wolverweight champion, who won the title from Young Kloby, will meet Marty Summers of New York in the feature event of the Armory A.A. show in Boston tonight. Frankie Schell, and Shaver O'Brien will clash in the semifinal.

Jim Darcy, who has been training with World's Champion Jack Dempsey will make his eastern debut against Harry Greb in Boston Friday night.

Friends and admirers of Johnny (Young) Avila of Lowell are urging Boston promoters to give the local heavyweight champion a fight against Boyle Kibby or some of the other heavyweights in this vicinity. They feel confident that with proper training
Avila can give "him a run."

Soldier Bartlett, who was accused of "not trying" in his last Boston fight, will meet Italian Joe Gang in Brooklyn tonight.

Terry Martin and Marty Collins clash in Providence tonight.

Detroit is of the opinion that it has a fine piece of heavyweight championship in the person of Jack Mc-Auliffe. Frank S. Gonyea, secretary of the Michigan Trotting Horse breeders association, writes as follows about the discovery:

"The boy Jack McAuliffe is the best piece of comparatively raw material I have ever seen. He is not stealing a name, for he was christened John as a baby. When he was born here 20 years ago last fall, when a baby his folks moved to the Canadian northwest, and he came back here last year.
Shaggyhaired, picked up this chance with McAuliffe against fellow boy, a little over a year ago, worked with him for months, then went to the west, where he had a number of tryouts."

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

Vice Pres. Coolidge Pledges
His Support to the Appeal for Funds

BOSTON, May 10.—Expressing confidence in the success of the home service appeal of the Salvation Army for funds to carry on its work for the coming year, Vice President Coolidge yesterday pledged his full support in the appeal that is now being made throughout New England.

Community advisory boards in all the New England states are now actively working to raise the money that the Salvation Army is asking for its work. "Composed in every instance of the prominent and professional men and women in each community, these boards are leaving no stone unturned that the funds required will be raised before June 1."

Vice President Coolidge's endorsement follows right on the heels of President Harding and the governors of all the New England states. In his letter to Colonel McIntyre, provincial officer in command of the Salvation Army in New England, the vice president said: "The Salvation Army is so well established in the faith of the people through the work which it has accomplished that I feel confident the only thing that is necessary to secure a continuing support is a direct appeal to the people of New England."

"They are conscious of the need of your activities, and of its ability to reach a class that could be helped in almost no other way. I want to express through you my obligations for your efforts and my earnest hope for your future support."

DISCOVER OIL AND GAS TERRITORY

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, May 10.—Discovery of oil and gas territory near Puerto Limon, on the eastern coast of Costa Rica, is reported here. The gas is said to be in large quantities at Cahulla, and one well from which gas was issuing has become the scene of a serious fire, in which the derrick and well-derricking machinery was destroyed. It is believed here that this is the first discovery of natural gas in Central America.

Cup-shaped oil reservoirs in the end of each leaf afford continuous lubrication to a new automobile spring.

HEARD WHAT ANOTHER WOMAN SAID

Mrs. Margaret Bonniere of Murray street, St. John, N. B., writes: "I heard a lady saying she bought a bottle of Dr. True's Elixir for her children, and it was splendid. I got a bottle and I think it is great."

The laxative mentioned above is Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller. It is very pleasant to take; children like it, and it is mild in action. No harmful drugs.

It is surprising to know the number of youngsters and even grown-ups who suffer from worms, but don't realize it. Every one needs a good laxative. Common symptoms of worms: Offensive breath, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, eyes heavy and dull, itching of the nose, grinding of the teeth, red points on the tongue, slow fever.

GORDON SAYS SPRAYER IS MONEY SAVER

The new sprayer purchased this year for the moth department, already has paid for itself, is the belief of Supt. John Gordon. "Since spraying operations began this spring, 250 places have been sprayed, against a total number last year of about 340. Supt. Gordon says this year's total will approach six hundred."

A fair sample of the work which can be accomplished with the new sprayer was given yesterday afternoon by 17 pest control workers. The former equipment the number would not have been more than six, said the superintendent.

Economically, Supt. Gordon feels that the new machine is eminently satisfactory, for at the present time it is mounted on a Ford truck, which is used for 30 a day, and this is considerably less than the department was obliged to pay for a horse, wagon and driver in former years.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE
Without a plot and with but the single mission of musing, Sidney Drew's farce comedy, "Billy," presented by the Lowell Players, sent audiences into gales of laughter in the Lowell Opera House last night.

The play deals with life on the ocean wave, aboard the S.S. Florida, and the entire three acts are run through without a single change of scene.

The story centres around the super-sensitiveness of a hero of the football team of a New England college, who has lost four of his front teeth in a scrimmage over the pigskin. The missing molars are replaced with artificial ones, and upon a solid gold base.

The owner of the teeth, a young fellow named Billy, is a student of the college, and is a member of the football team. He is a member of the football team, and is a member of the football team. He is a member of the football team, and is a member of the football team.

Teacher Of "New Thought" Healed By Fruit Liver Tablets

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.

"I am not in the habit of praising any material medicine as I am an advocate of 'New Thought'; but some time ago, I had such a bad attack of Liver and Stomach Trouble that I gave up thinking I did not have it and took 'Fruit-a-lives' or Fruit Liver Tablets."

Most gratifying was the result. It relieved my liver and stomach trouble, cleaned up my yellowish complexion and put new blood in my body. 'Fruit-a-lives' is the highest result of 'New Thought' in medicine."

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Proposals looking to naval disarmament will be presented in the senate, notwithstanding the expressed wish of President Harding that congress take no action on the subject at present, Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, announced in a statement last night. At the same time, he said, there was no intention of interfering with executive authority.

Disarmament, said Senator Borah in his statement last night, is primarily a question of taxation, a subject exclusively given to congress.

"The fact that the plan or suggestion may incidentally touch our relationship with other nations should not be taken as prohibitive of congress action," he continued. "We have no intention whatever of interfering with the executive authority. We simply propose to urge the only plan by which it is possible for congress to reduce these fearful burdens which are now ruining the people of this country."

HARRIS IN CHARGE OF LIQUOR CASES

BOSTON, May 10.—The prosecution of liquor cases under the Volstead act in this district again reverts to the office of the United States district attorney, according to information received here from Washington last night.

Dist. Atty. Robert O. Harris, when called on the telephone at his home in Brookline last night, admitted that he had received a telegram from Washington authorizing him in the future to conduct the prosecution of all violations of the liquor law.

So far as can be judged at present, this action by the United States attorney general practically eliminates Herbert A. Morgan from the prosecution of all such cases in the United States district court in this city. Mr. Morgan was appointed last January by ex-Senator Palmer as his special assistant in the prosecution of liquor cases, taking such duties out of the hands of Daniel J. Gallagher, district attorney at that time. The appointment was the subject of considerable comment, and was said to have been the result of efforts on the part of Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, who just previous to that time had made a public attack on Mr. Gallagher for alleged remarks regarding the Volstead act and its enforcement.

Mr. Morgan's conduct of cases was freely attacked by several defendants in the prosecution of liquor cases, taking such duties out of the hands of Daniel J. Gallagher, district attorney at that time. The appointment was the subject of considerable comment, and was said to have been the result of efforts on the part of Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, who just previous to that time had made a public attack on Mr. Gallagher for alleged remarks regarding the Volstead act and its enforcement.

LABOR UNIONS OPPOSE RECOGNITION OF SOVIET

CINCINNATI, May 10.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor, in session here today was preparing data to be placed before the federation's annual convention in Denver to show that organized labor of this country cannot afford to support any movement to recognize the Soviet Russia government.

The council will also take up the discussion of plans for a new drive against industrial courts and anti-labor legislation pending in congress and in several states.

President Gompers' legislative report showed that during the past year, organized labor has been successful in the way of preventing the passage of unfavorable legislation in congress, but had been successful in many of the states.

BOSTON, May 10.—A fine of $300 each was imposed by Judge Franklin B. Fessenden in the superior court yesterday afternoon on Robert D. Weston and Hector M. Holmes, Boston lawyers, who on Jan. 28 were found guilty of receiving papers stolen from the law office of Daniel H. Coakley. The defendants were ordered to pay the fine immediately, and were ordered to appear in court on May 11 to show cause why they should not be committed to jail.

John P. Feeney, appearing for the commonwealth, protested against the court's action, declaring that since the defendants were willing to pay and did not ask for a stay, none should be given.

Shortly after the close of the hearing Mr. Feeney handed in his resignation as an assistant district attorney. Mr. Feeney was appointed last fall to try the cases of Fred M. J. Sheehan, who resigned to allow Mr. Feeney's appointment, was reappointed last night and will be sworn in this morning.

Getting Ready for Campaign to say what should be done with them and had replied "They (members of the chamber) will get nothing out of me."

Typewriters were clicking and brain cells laboring at full speed in the chamber's rooms as the doors were unlocked this morning to get the preliminaries started for a referendum to the members of the organization, voted for at yesterday's meeting of the board of directors, of the question of whether they will give their support to the move to train the guns of a threatened use of the initiative upon the members of the municipal council to force them to capitulate to the demand for the employment of contractors to build streets.

Before noon the referendum question had been satisfactorily formulated and also a letter to be sent to each one of the members asking them to decide whether or not they wish to support the motion.

Expect Large Vote

A messenger was despatched to the office of a local printer with instructions that not a moment should be lost in getting the referendum and accompanying letter in type and run through the presses and ready for the press. It is expected that the work will have been completed by tomorrow morning and the printed matter placed in the mails no later than tomorrow noon. The fighting temper of the chamber is shown by the unprecedented haste that has attended the getting of the referendum and letter in type and the prediction that the returns will show the largest vote ever cast on a question similarly submitted to the membership.

With every referendum sheet and letter is to go a stamped and addressed envelope to facilitate the mailing of a prompt reply. In the past members have been obliged to furnish their own postage stamps and envelopes when they were called upon to vote on questionnaires submitted to them.

No Change of Plans

No definite time has been set for the ending of the referendum, but it is probable that the polls will be closed Saturday night.

When the information was conveyed to George F. Wells, the chamber's secretary-manager, that the members of the municipal council had shown signs of running up the white flag of surrender by voting to hold a public hearing on the subject of contract paying, he said the action would make no difference as regards the carrying out of the referendum on the question.

What action will be taken by the chamber as regards participation in the hearing, and whether it will be satisfied to have a tentative experiment made with contract paying work by using it on a single street, was not forecast by the chamber's officials today.

Plans are being formulated by the chamber, if the action of the members on the referendum is satisfactory, and the council fails to meet the demand that has been made upon it, to start a campaign the first of next week for the prompt ratification of the referendum.

The standing of the various parties as announced by Dr. Michael A. Tighe, division chairman, today, follows:

other father were the words "south-ern," "lecture" and "dungeon."

A test as to Fortier's ability to repeat a series of numbers was then given, declared the witness. He failed in practically every instance which the witness gave on the stand. The series 4759 Fortier repeated as 974, said the witness, referring to one of his answers which most nearly approximated correctness occurred when he repeated the numbers, 7261, as 7681. He failed to repeat 641 correctly. Miss Lowden explained that Fortier was successful in nothing above the seventh year level. In arithmetical reasoning, she said, he passed in simple problems of change at the nine-year level. A few other tests to which the prisoner was subjected were related by the witness. Among these was a description of pictures which witness said was satisfactory at the 12-year level but a failure in the 13-year test.

With the district attorney cross-examining, witness said that with reference to the questions where she had no report of the answers except "failed" or "succeeded," the result was based on her opinion and that was based on her experience. The district attorney asked as to the defendant's definition of a balloon. Witness gave Fortier's definition as being "up in the air." She marked him "failed" on this answer. Mr. Tufts wanted to know why Fortier got no credit for this response, and Miss Lowden explained that the answer had to be "superior to use." She cited the defendant's definition of a balloon. Adventures of The Twins

FLIPPETY-FLAP'S BARGAIN

"OH, HOW GRATEFUL I'LL BE," DECLARED MRS. BRUIN.

"What's wrong?" cried Flippety-Flap and the twins as the two bear boys came blubbering home. Nancy rushed to Butter-Ball, and Nick rushed to Billy-Bunch, the two of them helping the poor little fellows up fellows into the house.

"The wild bees bit us," blubbered Butter-Ball. "They bit us so hard they left their teeth in the bites and they still hurt."

"There have no teeth—only stingers," corrected the fat man, "but never mind, stingers are bad enough. I'll have to get out my pliers and pull 'em all out for you so they'll quit hurting."

And Flippety-Flap took a pair of pliers out of one of his magic shoes. Just then Mr. and Mrs. Bruin Brown Bear arrived at the front door and dropped into chairs with groans.

"Did the bees sting you, too?" asked Nancy kindly.

"No," moaned Mrs. Bruin holding one foot tenderly with her paw and rocking back and forth. "It was the thorns."

Daddy and I were going through the thorny-bush to the grasshoppers' house, and we stepped on about a million jiggers. Ouch! Oh, dear!

"Never mind, my dear Madam," Flippety-Flap assured her, at the same time holding up his pliers. "Just as soon as I get the bee-stingers out of your legs, I shall pull all the thorns out of you and your husband."

"Oh, how grateful I'll be," declared Mrs. Bruin. "Well, pay you any price you ask, Mister, won't you Bruin?"

Grain agreed gruffly.

"It was Flippety-Flap's chance. 'I don't want money,' said he quickly, 'but you can pay me by going back to the circus with us, can't they, kids?'"

Nancy and Nick clapped their hands and danced around in glee.

"All right," agreed the bears. "We'll do anything, if you'll just hurry."

In two shakes, the stingers and thorns were out!

NEW STYLE OF CAR FOR CITY DEPARTMENT

The new Ford car purchased by the city engineering department, arrived yesterday, and was put into commission today. It is novel among city cars, inasmuch as it is of the caravan style, with a special light wood body mounted upon regular chassis and with three wide rear and room back for tools and engineering equipment. It departmental designation is emblazoned on both sides of the hood. The arrival of the machine marks the passing of the old, familiar two-wheeled democrat wagon that has been used by the men of the engineering staff for upwards of 20 years. During that time it has been drawn by several different horses, but one stands out prominently in mind—the white one, shot in 1912 after about 20 years of faithful service.

The horse that has been used of late years, now goes back to its owner, the street department.

POLES SEIZED BY GERMANS

Latter Crossed Oder River Into Upper Silesia and Captured Six Poles

One of Whom Was Suspected
of Killing Germans Executed by Captors

RATIBO, Upper Silesia, May 10.—German patrols crossed the Oder river into Upper Silesia yesterday and captured six Poles, one of whom was suspected of killing a number of Germans.

The leader of the patrol, a civilian 23 years of age, declared the Poles had admitted the killings. When asked what he was going to do about it, the patrol leader said:

"He was taking 10 pairs away and two men were detailed to attend to him. He disappeared but probably could be found floating down the Oder."

Italian troops here declare they have lost severely in recent fighting against the Poles, and appear to be greatly incensed. They are declared to have shown untold cruelty toward Polish prisoners, who are generally being handed over to their German captors.

Ammunition has been received here from Breslau and from Oppeln and German citizens are being armed and told to defend themselves.

FOUND DEAD IN HER BED

Medical Examiner Says Death
of Mrs. Dorr Due to Accidental Asphyxiation

The body of Mrs. Heaster Dorr, aged 81 years, was found this morning, in her bed at her home, 217 Liberty street, by her son, Walter, and Medical Examiner Thomas B. Smith, after an investigation, reported her death due to accidental asphyxiation.

Mrs. Dorr lived alone and went to bed at her customary hour last evening. One of her sons, Charles, was in the habit of awaking her each morning by calling her on the telephone. Failing to get a response when he called shortly before 7:30 this morning, he notified another son, Walter, who made his way into the house and found his mother in bed with a strong odor of gas in the room. It was found that the cock of a gas radiator was open and that gas was escaping in this way.

In conducting his investigation, Medical Examiner Smith found that the cock of the radiator was located near that of the illuminating gas in the room, and that it was very loose. In turning on or off the cock of the illuminating pipe it was easy to accidentally turn on that of the radiator and it is believed that this was what happened last evening. The body was removed to the undertaker's rooms of George W. Healey in Westford street.

Mrs. Dorr is survived by three sons, Walter H. and Charles Dorr, both of this city, and William B. Dorr of Waterbury, Conn., one brother and two sisters. Mrs. Dorr was one of the oldest members of the Worthen Street M. E. church, now united with the Highland-Union church.

Second - Exquisite and poetic photography.

Third - A scenario of great intensity of interest and packed with vividly dramatic scenes, which are splendidly acted and directed; and

Finally - Miss Compton, whose performance of Rose in my "Miracle Man", fairly electrified audiences and the most blasé of critics, has in "Prisoners of Love", a characterization even more difficult to play—of even greater emotional range than Rose, and I believe she gives, as Blanche, one of the greatest performances as yet seen on the screen.

She has improved marvelously in depth and power and control since the days she played Rose for me in "The Miracle Man". The problems that a girl faces who possesses an unusual amount of sex appeal are beautifully and powerfully illustrated.

Please give Miss Compton my heartiest congratulations and again let me thank you for a most enjoyable evening.

Sincerely yours,

Mayor Makes Statement

cations to be furnished by the engineering department, specifying that Lowell labor shall be employed with the exception of necessary general supervision of the work."

In Good Faith

When the mayor had concluded his statement, Commissioner Marchand said that the communication had been tabled at last week's meeting in good faith with the idea, in his mind, at least, of taking it up for consideration at some future time.

Commissioner Murphy then offered the amendment that a public hearing be held on the matter, and this was voted for on the evening of Friday, May 13, the unucky combination causing a smile or two, but no reconsideration.

Commissioner Salmon inquired if any work is being done on Central bridge.

Commissioner Murphy replied that he has been informed that the contracting company will commence its work on the bridge in about two weeks.

Patrick F. Cullinan, president of the union of stationary firemen, appeared before the council to ask whether or not the council could take some action relative to the existing labor conditions at the plant of the Lowell Gas company.

Commissioner Murphy asked what the council could do.

"I don't know," answered Mr. Cullinan.

"Have we any jurisdiction over the matter?" asked the commissioner.

"I think you have, when it is a question of protecting the property of citizens. We do not know what type of men are being hired to go into our homes to do gas repairs."

Mr. Cullinan intimated that the union might call for a hearing before the conciliation and arbitration board in the near future.

Hearings on Petitions

Hearings were held on the following petitions:

Lowell Electric Light Corp., for one pole in Eighth street. Referred.

John F. Sawyer, gasoline, 159 Fairmount street. Referred.

Omer Garlepy, gasoline, 117 Webber street. Referred.

The Lowell Buildings Investment Co. petitioned for a sewer in Westchester street. Referred to Commissioner Murphy.

Marle Bouals petitioned that a sidewalk be laid in Dracut street. Referred.

Arthur Dezelle petitioned that a sidewalk be laid in White street. Referred.

George Husson petitioned that Cummings alley be relocated and widened. Referred to Commissioner Murphy.

Notice was read of an attachment placed upon the city of Lowell in the sum of $300 by Rosa Scully, in an alleged action of tort.

The commissioner of water works and fire protection reported favorably on the following garage licenses: Kathleen G. Drowett, 9 Fifth street; L. H. Hauver, 126 Powell street.

Orders were adopted authorizing the Lowell Electric Light Corporation to erect and maintain one pole in Appleton and Middle streets.

Adjourned at 11:40 a. m. until tomorrow at 11 o'clock, for the approval of monthly bills.

Parents, Two Sisters and Another Brother Escape—Cause of Fire a Mystery

CAMBRIDGE, May 10.—Four brothers were burned to death early today in a fire which destroyed their home. Starting near the front of the house, the flames blocked the only exit from the attic rooms occupied by the youths, who were found dead when reached by firemen. They are: Lester, 21; Ernest, 19; Warren, 14, and Lester Trembley, 12.

Other members of the family and occupants of the house were rescued. The fire was discovered by two street car employees who had made unsuccessful efforts to reach the attic before the firemen arrived. These men aroused Mr. and Mrs. Justin Trembley, parents of the brothers, their two daughters and another son who occupied rooms on the second floor. Occupants of the first floor were awakened by a milkman.

The cause of the fire was undetermined. The building, a two and one-half-story wooden structure, was damaged but not destroyed.

Postponement

At the very last minute it seems advisable to postpone the monthly luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce, from Wednesday, May 11th, to Wednesday, May 18th, as the speaker, Mr. Vorenberg, together with Mr. Mitton and Mr. Bacon have been called to Washington for a conference with the taxation committee. They, however, will be sure and be present on May 18th, with additional information from Washington, and speak on this very important subject.

French Officials Expect Germany to Accept all of the Allied Demands

News From Berlin Reaching Paris Indicates Affirmative Action

PARIS, May 10.—(By the Associated Press)—News received from Berlin today led French official circles to expect that Germany would accept all the ultimatum conditions.

The time for Germany to give a categorical answer to the allied reparations demands expires at midnight Thursday. The terms, in the main, call for payment of approximately $33,750,000,000, and fulfillment of various other requirements of the treaty of Versailles, including the disarmament clauses. Failure to accept is to be followed by allied occupation of the industrial region of the Ruhr valley.

WAR HERO
FOUND DEAD

Body of Capt. McGilvary Found With Bullet Wound Over Eye, in Boston

Circumstances Indicate Suicide—Had Been Decorated by Italy for Bravery in War

BOSTON, May 10.—Capt. Paton McGilvary, hero of several notable bombing raids as an American flyer with Italian forces in the world war, was found dead in the rear of a garage in the Back Bay district today. He had been shot over the left eye. An automatic pistol and bullets discharged and loaded lay nearby. Medical Examiner Leary said the circumstances indicated suicide, but that investigation would be thorough.

Capt. McGilvary who had been decorated with the Italian war cross for bravery, had entered the commercial aviation field in New England after the war. His venture, however, was said to have resulted in financial losses. His health was impaired and he went to the woods for a rest.

His body bore only the forehead wound, although at least two shots were fired. This fact, together with

Former Employees of Gas Company Appeal to Council for Assistance

With all members voting in the affirmative, the municipal council this morning took from the table the communication addressed to the council by the board of directors of the Lowell chamber of commerce, relative to street paving by contract and then voted to hold a public hearing on the matter in the aldermanic chamber at 7.30 o'clock on Friday evening of this week.

This action followed a statement to the members of the council by Mayor Perry D. Thompson, in which he stressed the grave importance of the matter as an economical and sound business proposition.

The mayor moved that the commissioner of streets and highways be directed to call for bids for the pavement of Chelmsford street with permanent paving, in accordance with specifications furnished by the engineering department, specifying that Lowell labor shall be employed with the exception of necessary general supervision of the work.

Commissioner Murphy offered an amendment to this motion setting Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

Commerce Chamber Prepares to Train Initiative Guns on Municipal Council

Expected Referendum Will Be Submitted to Members Tomorrow Noon

No Change of Plans as Result of Vote to Hold Hearing

The scent of battle was in the air in the chamber of commerce rooms today as preparations were made for what may develop into one of the most stirring and interesting pieces of warfare ever waged in the political and civic annals of Lowell. The chamber has picked up the fighting gauntlet thrown down, it is claimed, contemptuously by the municipal council at its meeting last week when resolutions having the unanimous approval of the board of directors were presented to the city fathers calling for the more economical construction of streets by placing the work in the hands of private contractors. The aldermen, without pausing for the formalities of a funeral, cast the resolutions into a neatly excavated grave in the "files" after, it is asserted, Street Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy had been given a chance previous to the meeting to say what should be done with them and had replied "They (members of the chamber) will get nothing out of me."

Typewriters were clicking and brain cells laboring at full speed in the chamber's rooms soon after the doors were unlocked this morning to get the preliminaries started for a referendum to the members of the organization, voted for at yesterday's meeting of the board of directors, if the question of whether they will give their support to the move to train the guns of a threatened use of the initiative upon the members of the municipal council to force them to capitulate to the demand for the employment of contractors to build streets.

Before noon the referendum question had been thoroughly formulated and also a letter to be sent to each one of the members asking them to decide whether or not they wish to respond to the colors in support of the board of directors in the fight upon which they have started.

TESTIMONY IN MURDER CASE

Witnesses Who Worked With Fortier Tell of His Peculiarities

Ex-Service Man Who Knew Defendant Overseas On Stand Today

Fortier Was Subject to Severe Headaches While in the Service

That Alfred Fortier, one of the three defendants in the Tallon murder case now on trial in the superior court in East Cambridge, has the intellectual development of a child six and one-half years old, according to tests that have been made to determine his mental condition was testified to today by Alice L. Lowden, assistant psychologist at the Boston Psychopathic hospital. The test, the Leland Stanford modification of the Binet-Simon test, is recognized as a standard, the witness stated.

The first witness of the morning was George J. Trudel of Liberty street, Lowell. He is a veteran of the world war and was in service overseas with Battery B, 305th Regiment, 77 Division. He told of meeting Fortier for the first time during the voyage of the troops to France, and of later being in his company in that country practically all of the time as a member of the same battery.

"How much was he under fire in a certain month?" was asked of the witness.

"Every day after we got into position," was the answer.

"Witness said that in the Argonne the battery was in action all the time."

"How many guns were there in your battery?" was asked.

"Three 15's."

"Did they make any noise?"

"They sure did. When you are near them you have to put cotton batting in your ears or they'll go through you."

The witness said that the battery was in action along the Meuse and Marne among other places.

"You said you bunked with Fortier part of the time?"

"Yes."

"Did you notice anything peculiar about him?"

"The witness stated that Fortier would discuss a subject and then return to it again in a few moments apparently having forgotten that he had been talking about it previously. Fortier would then scratch his head and begin to grin, witness asserted.

District Attorney Tufts took up the examination of the witness.

"How much did Fortier walk in his sleep over there," was asked.

The witness replied that he had never seen the prisoner sleep-walking. He said that he had seen other men nervous over there and that it was quite common for them to be so, but

NEW CHARTER FEATURES

To Be Explained By the Commission to Clear Away Misconceptions

In order to clear away some misconception of the new charter plan and to give the public an accurate understanding of its provisions, the charter commission from time to time will give out articles dealing with some of these features. The following is given out through Hon. James B. Casey, chairman.

In presenting an analysis of the proposed charter and reasons which led the charter commission to frame its various sections, it would seem advisable at the outset to say that the object of this discussion is simply to familiarize our citizens, as far as possible, with the merits of the new charter draft, and the necessity for its adoption in order to bring about an improved condition of municipal affairs. The members of the charter commission feel their work would not be complete without presenting to the public a brief but thorough digest of the proposed charter and the thanks of the commission and citizens is due this newspaper for its kindness in affording such an opportunity. In the explanation of the charter as prepared by the commission, the personal element should be eliminated entirely. The new charter is either a good charter for the city, or it is not, and citizens must determine that point for themselves, disregarding the individual alarm of those who are opposed to its adoption for personal or office reasons. The charter questions must be decided on their merits, and the individual convenience of present office holders.

Defects of Old Charter

Since 1911 we have operated under the commission form of government, so-called. It is not an instrument of government for the following reasons: There is too much divided responsibility vested in the city council. Each member of the council is a law unto himself in the administration of respective departments in his charge. There is no one in authority to check extravagance or abuse of government, for the mayor is without authority to do so. The other four commissioners are entirely ignored, for the reason that one commissioner is not anxious to offend the other. Each commissioner is empowered to exercise the three functions of government, viz: executive, legislative and administrative, which is an unwise provision, as it permits them to determine the amount of money they shall appropriate for themselves, and then proceed to spend it as they see fit without any check or limitation upon their judgment. Secrecy in official conduct and administration of public affairs is widely permitted. Citizens are unaware of what is going on at a meeting of the council until it is then too late to enter protest.

Heads of departments remain in office indefinitely under the protection of civil service, regardless of qualification or fitness. The keeping within the lines of civil service protection is the only ability they need display. The door of public service is effectively closed on all citizens, young or old, until the present incumbents die in office or resign, which latter contingency is rare, indeed. The ability to be elected a commissioner is the only qualification required to be placed in administrative control, and assume management of several important city departments. A majority vote on election day makes qualified experts of those elected to administer such important departments as finance, streets, public property, fire, police, water, etc. It is a wonderful transition and certificate of efficiency that is issued on election day. Discipline in the workings of departments is destroyed, if the commissioner in charge and the superintendent are not in accord as to policy and management. Indecision, lack of control and unbusinesslike ability have fostered untold extravagance upon the taxpayers under the present charter. Let us cite two instances only. The isolation hospital construction dragged along for several years to be finally completed at a cost of $2,000,000; the most colossal blundering and extravagance ever perpetrated upon the citizens of any community.

It is just a little too much to expect that those elected to the city council under the present charter will all possess real executive, legislative and administrative ability, and that is what our present charter demands of citizens elected to office. That is why it has failed to function efficiently. Citizens will not be elected to the city council under the new charter, possessing such rare ability. The difference is that the new charter does not expect or ask it. It does expect, however, that a citizen will be elected mayor possessed of executive ability, a city council possessed of legislative qualification and that the mayor and city council will select persons of recognized training and capacity to serve as administrative heads of departments.

The new charter provides for an enlarged representation of citizens in the

They are now being sold at lower prices, but still attain the remarkable wearing qualities and fine appearance that have made them so popular.

If you have been buying ordinary shoes for your children and getting poor returns, we ask you to try our Special Shoes.

They cost a little more and are worth it, but you will be satisfied with the results return to this great United States and find the people of whose privileges the whole world is envious "bluer" and gloomier than any of the other nations with whom I came in contact!

Let me remind you that there are 17 major products of the United States which at present dominate the markets of South America, and which European competition, to my mind, will never supercede with their goods.

Among these products are automobiles and automobile accessories—the latter a very large item and involving output from a number of separate industries; rubber tires and a variety of rubber goods, oil, (crude and refined), paints and varnishes, coal, harvesting, mining, oil-well and printing machinery, building elevators, cranes and hoisting devices, electrical goods, paper and sundries, typewriters, sewing machines, cotton piece goods, tobacco and steel supplies.

There are a dozen other standard lines in which we would not only compete but absolutely dominate in those markets if the industries concerned elected to follow the same policy as those who have succeeded.

When the market comes down again, the United States will retain all the business in the basic products which consumers there have come to know and prefer, and which are now sold and distributed through branch houses and responsible agents.

We shall lose a lot of trade in small wares which have been handled in the wrong way and by the wrong people, deservedly so, but this will be insignificant as compared with the volume of real business which the United States has developed—and will continue to develop.

When I review the growth of American industry, tremendously augmented by the investment of war-time capital in plant expansion, I foresee the day not far distant when every major industry in the United States will have a production capacity in excess of the domestic demand.

New outlets will be imperative, which means foreign trade on a vastly increased scale. We must perforce locate this trade, in those overseas markets most favorable to the United States, in the matter of freight and equal competition. What markets appear to our economic reasoning more surely than the markets of South America?

It makes my blood boil to hear crying for "protection" Americans who at this very moment are better off than any producers in the world. We have the most efficient productive methods, the most money, the most competent directing genius, capable transportation and experienced labor of any country on the face of the globe. We are the creditor nation, and permit the rest of the world to hear us yelling for protection! Protection against whom?

These are the days of conservation and cautious effort, but they also are the days of courage and breadth of vision. The world requires to be fed and clothed and will continue to need what we have to sell. We shall sell more profitably as we sell more intelligently. That is the simple solution of the problem.

STRAWBERRY TRIFLE

This is another way to use strawberries. Cut large ones in halves, lay in a glass dish, sprinkle with fine sugar cover with sponge cake crumbs and a few split blanched almonds. Cover with whipped cream and decorate with strawberries.

LYNN, May 10.—Employees of the Gregory & Reed Shoe Co., of this city, who have been on a strike since May 3, have returned to work following an agreement to submit differences to the joint adjustment board of the Lynn Manufacturers' Association and the United Shoe Workers of America. WESTON AND HOLMES
FINED $300 EACH
BOSTON, May 10.—A fine of $300 each was imposed by Judge Franklin G. Fessenden in the superior court yesterday afternoon on Robert D. Weston and Hector M. Holmes, Boston lawyers, who on Jan. 28, were found guilty of receiving papers stolen from the law office of Daniel H. Caskey. The defendants will carry the case to the supreme court in an effort to have the verdict set aside. Their bill of exceptions was allowed last week, and the case will probably come before the full bench next November.

Although Edward F. McClenen, counsel for the defendants, stated that his clients were ready to pay their fines at once, Judge Fessenden ordered a stay of execution pending further order of the court.

John P. Feeney, appearing for the commonwealth, protested against the court's action, declaring that since the defendants were willing to pay and did not ask for a stay, none should be given.

Shortly after the close of the hearing Mr. Feeney handed in his resignation as an assistant district attorney. Mr. Feeney was appointed last fall to try the cases. Fred M. J. Sheehan, who resigned to allow Mr. Feeney's appointment, was reappointed last night and will be sworn in this morning.

It is rather a novel experience to cover a large part of a continent (South America), to meet financiers and traders of every nationality, to talk with exporters and importers of many countries and of varied industry, to find them all covetous of America's monetary position, envious of the advantages in the hands of the American business man today, wishing they were in your place, desiring their own relative situation—and then to

Mr. Essex Owner!

YOU know and I know that the Essex is the greatest little car on the market. Mine certainly pleases me—especially when I pass the larger cars along the road with such ease.

But I learned a few weeks ago how to make my Essex better!

I went on a trip to Springfield with Sam Tuttle. Sam uses his Essex for business purposes and saves dollars of railroad fares.

I noticed that Sam's car had more response and power than mine. This peeved me somewhat as I had spent over $100.00 in the past few months for overhauling and carbon grinding.

But I was dumbfounded when Sam's gas indicator showed that on the 100-mile trip he had used but six gallons of gas. I had burned up a little over nine.

So I asked Sam what kind of magic he had used to make his Essex perform so wonderfully. He gave me his secret—FAM-O.

As a result of his trip, I poured an eight-ounce can of FAM-O in my gas tank before starting a 226-mile trip to Vermont. I was getting 11 miles to the gallon when I started out. On the return trip I averaged over 16. And that small can of FAM-O at $1.00 did the trick for me.

Now I make a practice of pouring about 2 ounces of FAM-O in every ten gallons of gas. And some day if you see a red Essex touring car go ripping by up some steep hill, you'll know it's yours truly with his FAM-O-ized Wonder Car. Send $1.00 to GORDON MANUFACTURING CO., Foxboro, Mass., for 8-oz. can—enough FAM-O for 40 gallons of gasoline.

Trouble With Railroads is Excessive Operating Expenses, Says Kruttschnitt

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The trouble with the railroads is excessive operating expenses, an abnormal amount of which is the cost of labor, Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of the Southern Pacific railroad, declared today before the senate interstate commerce committee. He was the first witness at the opening of the congressional investigation into the transportation situation.

Suggests Five Remedies

He suggested five remedies which he said were easily applied and productive of great economies. They are:

"Stop the use for common carrier purposes of highways built with public moneys without adequate tolls and proper regulations.

"Make inland waterways built or improved as public assets carry themselves as to interest on cost and maintenance by regulating the common carrier traffic on them and by imposing adequate tolls.

"Keep the United States government out of the business of operating steamships and stop the lavish expenditure of public money to provide coastwise ocean transportation in competition with transcontinental railroads.

"Tolls for use of the Panama canal should be sufficient to pay interest on its cost, operating expenses and maintenance.

"Do not deprive transcontinental carriers of coastwise traffic by inflexibly enforcing a strict long and short haul class."

Annals Propaganda

In opening his statement, Mr. Kruttschnitt said:

"Widespread propaganda is being carried on to arouse public sentiment against existing freight rates. The fact is that even since the rates have

CATARRH OF EAR, NOSE AND HEAD NOISES

TELLS SAFE, SIMPLE WAY TO

TREAT AND RELIEVE AT HOME

If you have catarrh, ear, nose or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels, you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can carry out in your own home with a little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Ears (double strength). Take this home and add to it 1/2 pint of water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dizziness, cloudy thinking, etc., should gradually disappear, under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly 90 per cent. of all ear trouble is cured by catarrh and there must, therefore, be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple, harmless, home treatment.—Adv.

been advanced the cost of transporting commodities is far less than the toll taken by the commission merchant and the retailer."

He said that the general deflation and fall of prices had caused stagnation of business. To support his argument that railroad rates were not responsible, he said that notwithstanding the lowest rates on tonnage rates in history, millions of tons of shipping here and abroad were rusting in idleness because there was such a small demand for goods.

"The percentage of freight charges to the average value of commodities shipped in the early part of 1917," he added, "is only two-tenths of one percent, greater than in 1914."

"The trouble with our railroads has been intensified by the results of 26 months of an experiment in government ownership and the word ownership is used advisedly, as the federal railroad administration treated the railroads as if they were absolutely owned by the government and turned them back to their owners helplessly bound in imprudent agreements in the making of which their owners had no voice."

Mr. Kruttschnitt said the increase of labor costs in 1920 over 1919 was $37,514,552, and that if the increased scale which became effective retroactively last May had been in force during the whole year of 1920, the wage bill for that year would have been approximately $3,580,000,000 or $2,400,000,000 more than it was in 1917, the last year of private operation before the war.

"The government having strangled the railroads into something like bankruptcy," he concluded, "at last removed its hands and permitted a sudden increase in rates that should have been gradual and started at least 12 months ago. We should be in mind and circulate widely the president's epigram, 'More business in government and less government in business.'"

SAYS CHARGES AGAINST GRAIN EXCHANGE FALSE

PEORIA, Ill., May 10.—Charges against the nation's grain exchanges are in the main baseless and have resulted from a prejudiced condition which has been created among the farmers through dissemination of false rumors, Joseph P. Griffin, president of the Chicago board of trade said today in an address before the Illinois Grain Dealers' association.

He declared that some farmers' organizations had become so prejudiced that they sought to paralyze the entire marketing system of the country, without providing any substitute. He asserted that the exchanges were controlled entirely by the law of supply and demand.

"Touching on the futures market, he said the economic value of hedging, or price insurance, was undisputed and that the necessity of a grain market in which to hedge the farmers' grain was recognized."

"No conservative bank will make an unsecured loan to a small grain dealer who does not hedge his holdings, because a slump might otherwise bring ruin," he said. "The bank loans his money to business men, not speculators. Unprotected grain is a speculation."

"Elimination of the futures market means destruction of the economic functions of the grain exchanges; it means larger margin between producer and consumer and it involves the danger of price control."

The independent socialists have already favored yielding to the allies. It is believed there will be a sufficient majority in the reichstag for acceptance of the ultimatum.

The chief testified that Fortier's nose was bleeding after his arrest, and that there were marks under the prisoner's eyes. Witness did not inquire into the cause of this condition.

Chief Welch said that Lionel Thierberg's statements after his arrest, "I was with Fortier, but I didn't know he was going to do this job."

Fortier said, according to witness, that Dabague called his companions "yellow" and expressed his opinion that he would be obliged to "do this job alone."

Emile Thierberg said, during the examination, "I hope my mother won't hear of this," according to witness. He also declared the chief that he had money in two banks and didn't need any money.

"What was the tone of your voice when you said that?" asked O'Neill, the chief, who responded that it was "ordinary." The witness denied making references to someone as a "murderer" in a voice that could be heard "outside."

In being cross-examined by Mr. Goldman, witness said he asked Lionel if he had a green cap and if he had a gray one, and was given an affirmative reply by each prisoner.

Fortier's Mother Testifies

When the superintendent had left the stand, Mrs. Rosanna Fortier, mother of Alfred Fortier, was called by the defense. A little, pale-faced woman, wearing mourning, she was seated in a recess taken before she took the stand, and she then was given a seat while Attorney Tierney began her direct examination through a French interpreter. She testified to being a widow 46 years of age, with eight children dead and 7 living. Two of her children were born dead, she declared. Her husband, she stated, died five years ago.

Alfred went to work at the age of 14 years on a farm in Canada, she said. "How long did you ever know Alfred holding a job?"

"About one year,"

"Where was that?"

"The Gillespie."

"As a matter of fact didn't he work at the Gillespie several times during the year, getting through at different times?"

"Yes."

"Mrs. Fortier said her son had worked also at the Merrimack packing room, at Bagshaw's, and after returning from the war, at Schaff's ice cream place."

Alfred went to school in Canada, and did not graduate from any school, said witness. He missed school, in her opinion, during a period of several weeks. He went to school, she said, up to the age of 14, but missed school some times.

Witness said that the prisoner's father, her husband, died at the age of 35 years.

"Tell me just what your husband's habits were as to drink?"

"There was objection to the state, but witness was allowed to answer.

"Like everybody else, it was to please himself he liked to take a drink."

"Did he drink hard?" There was objection by the state in this question, as to that which followed: "Did he drink excessively?" The question finally asked was as follows:

"Did your husband at times become intoxicated?"

"Yes."

"And how often was that?"

"Every week; every Saturday, he liked to take his little drink."

"Did your husband at one time threaten suicide?" An objection was sustained. To a second query of a similar nature, District Attorney Tufts again rose in objection, saying that this would tend to show a suicidal rather than a homicidal mental leaning. It was also objected by Mr. Tufts that Mrs. Fortier's testimony would have to be limited to the period preceding the defendant's birth, as any tendencies evinced by the parent subsequent to this event could not be held as affecting his mental equipment.

Mr. Tierney here offered to explain the bearing of the questions, and a conference took place at the bench, after which the query was asked:

"When your husband made a statement regarding suicide? Your answer may be 'yes' or 'no'?"

"Yes. This was when Alfred was 10 years of age," said witness. Mr. Tufts asked that this be stricken out, but Judge Cox allowed it to stand, after Attorney Tierney had been permitted to state in his opinion the testimony would be shown to be relevant.

Witness said that her husband threatened suicide because of discouragement, and that she and his mother tried to watch him for two months. Witness said that her sister and her nephew (on her husband's side) were both insane.

Her sister, Josephine, who, witness said, is insane, is confined at the Quebec General Hospital. The nephew, witness said, is a resident of Quebec province, is 25 years old, and unable to care for himself, not being able even to put on his clothes himself.

Alfred went away from home for three months at the age of 12, said witness, and again left home when 14 years of age. His disposition was very rosy and quarrelsome, she said. He was very nervous, testified witness, and walked in his sleep practically every night for several years. Four other children, she declared, also are somnambulists.

How frequently from the time you came back to Lowell to the time Alfred went in the army, did he walk in his sleep?

"About every week."

"Did your son join the army?"

"Yes. This was March 28, 1918," said witness, who added that he remained in service about fourteen months, coming home two years ago today. He first went to work mending sidewalks for E. A. Smith, contractors, said witness, but soon stopped as he was very sick. He went to a doctor's office, witness declared. He had pimples and boils under his arms. He was asked whether Fortier ever picked up his trunk to leave the house when they were residing on the second floor, and then threw the trunk downstairs.

"Did you notice any change in Alfred's conduct after he came home from being in the army?"

"Yes."

"Did you notice any marks on his body that were not there when he went away?"

"No."

"What was the most prominent change you noticed in his conduct after he came home?"

"His manners. He was always discouraged. He was always in sorrow at being out here."

Saw Him Weeping

Witness told of seeing her son weeping on two or three occasions for no discernible reason. Before and after meals, on several occasions, he held his head in his hands. He often complained of pains.

On one rainy day, said witness, her son was sitting in the house, when he sought to run after someone. When she stopped him, he raised his hand, she declared, and then said, "You are lucky, mother, that I am able to know what I was doing."

Alfred said he was the bravest and strongest man in his company testified witness.

She was then queried about her son, saying that he had any plans to end the war; but objections were registered by Mr. Tufts to all questions bearing on this theme.

"Do you remember anything he said about injuries received to himself?"

"There was objection, but witness had answered 'No.'"

Witness recalled Alfred talking about building several houses. "He wanted one for himself and one for the family," said witness, who added that her son was working at the time. He stopped working Oct. 15, said witness, and was still without employment Jan. 25. A time came, said witness, when no one was working. "Two last ones," she said, "stopped work on Thanksgiving eve."

"Did the time come, after the last of your children stopped working, when Alfred knew that the city was supporting the house?"

"Yes," witness said that this was during the first week in January.

The district attorney rose at the conclusion of Mrs. Fortier's direct examination, and stated that he did not wish to cross-examine. He requested, however, that Mr. Tierney ascertain the name of the sister who she had stated was confined at the Quebec General Hospital. Witness was asked for this information and answered that her sister's name is Josephine des Silliers.

Court was here adjourned for the day.

"Did your husband at times become intoxicated?"

"Yes."

"And how often was that?"

"Every week; every Saturday, he liked to take his little drink."

"Did your husband at one time threaten suicide?" An objection was sustained. To a second query of a similar nature, District Attorney Tufts again rose in objection, saying that this would tend to show a suicidal rather than a homicidal mental leaning. It was also objected by Mr. Tufts that Mrs. Fortier's testimony would have to be limited to the period preceding the defendant's birth, as any tendencies evinced by the parent subsequent to this event could not be held as affecting his mental equipment.

Mr. Tierney here offered to explain the bearing of the questions, and a conference took place at the bench, after which the query was asked:

"Yes. This was when Alfred was 10 years of age," said witness. Mr. Tufts asked that this be stricken out, but Judge Cox allowed it to stand, after Attorney Tierney had been permitted to state in his opinion the testimony would be shown to be relevant.

Witness said that her husband threatened suicide because of discouragement, and that she and his mother tried to watch him for two months. Witness said that her sister and her nephew (on her husband's side) were both insane.

Her sister, Josephine, who, witness said, is insane, is confined at the Quebec General Hospital. The nephew, witness said, is a resident of Quebec province, is 25 years old, and unable to care for himself, not being able even to put on his clothes himself.

SEDITIONOUS ACTIVITIES

Reds Direct Propaganda
Towards Students, Negroes
and Union Labor

NEW YORK, May 10.—The complete report of the joint legislative committee investigating seditious activities was made public yesterday. A preliminary report was made to the legislature on April 20, 1920, and other findings of the committee were revealed during the hearings that led to the ousting of five socialist assemblymen by the assembly last summer. New matter developed since that time is incorporated in the four volumes of one thousand pages each, now published.

The authors, popularly known as the "Lusk Committee," for the reason that the chairman was State Senator Clayton R. Lusk, conclude that revolutionary radicals have sought to further their aims through personal propaganda, directing their efforts chiefly toward college students, negroes, and union labor. American colleges, it is charged, are honeycombed with avowed socialist professors whose teachings are Bolshevik and subversive of democratic ideals and institutions. "While the negro in general has been well treated in New York state," the report says, "the ill-treatment accorded him in other parts of the country has engendered a spirit of resentment which has been kept alive by the agents and agitators of the socialist party of America, the Industrial Workers of the World and other radical groups."

This spirit also has been encouraged by well-to-do liberals who have taken an active part in social uplift organizations. The report says that "union labor is being incessantly impregnated with radical doctrines."

What purport to be facsimile copies of letters from prominent Americans to socialist, pacifist and pro-German leaders are published with the explanation that the letters speak for themselves and the committee does not seek to question the motives of the writers.

The report also treats exhaustively the growth of radicalism in the principal countries of the world from the Karl Marx manifesto of 1818 to the present day.

$5,000,000 IN GOLD
FROM GREAT BRITAIN

NEW YORK, May 10.—Shipment of $5,000,000 gold said to be the first of a series to be made by Great Britain to aid in the retirement of its 5½ per cent. bonds maturing November 1 in this market, has arrived here, according to J. P. Morgan & Co., fiscal agents here for the English government. The gold came aboard the steamship Mauretania. It came unannounced other than for an accompanying letter from the Bank of England.

In addition to the Morgan assignment, the Mauretania brought $3,000,000 gold to another banking house. The flow of gold into the United States during the last month approximated $50,000,000 making the total since the first of the year in excess of $231,000,000.

"The reason why persons who are weak, anaemic, nervous and run-down have gotten into that condition is because they are so constituted that they use up their vital energy and nerve force quicker than their bodies can replace it." So spoke Dr. George M. Lipinski, formerly on the Philadelphia, Pa., department of health and for many years a practicing physician in that city, when interviewed recently.

"Their systems fail to extract from the food they eat and retain in sufficient quantity those mineral elements without which the body is absolutely unable to create vital energy and nerve force. And so they go on expending, day by day, their vital energy without adequately replenishing the supply until their systems become completely run-down, their blood gets impoverished, and their nerves are overstrained. The mineral elements which are essential in the creation of vital power are particularly calcium, potassium, sodium, phosphorus and iron. And these elements must be administered to those patients whose systems do not extract them in sufficient quantity in the natural way from their food. That is why I always recommend Wincarnis or weak, anaemic, nervous and run-down patients. For Wincarnis contains all of these vitally necessary elements in a form that enables the system to readily assimilate them and which is acceptable to the most delicate stomach."

Dr. Lipinski is only one of the more than 10,000 physicians who have found Wincarnis invaluable in such cases and have spoken and written in the greatest praise of the preparation. And many, many thousands of persons, grateful for the health and strength Wincarnis gave them when they were weak and worn out, have vouched for its remarkable virtues as a tonic, reconstructive and bloodmaker. The statements of some of these persons will be published from time to time in the columns of this newspaper.

Wincarnis is put in two sizes—$1.50 and $3.50. It is sold in Lowell by Green's drug store, Merrimack st., and all other first class drug stores. general, who frankly said that he would not have apologized had Americans succeeded in their efforts to kidnap him on German soil.

The department made continuous efforts to capture Bergdoll, Gen. March said, adding:

"The efforts of those men in Germany to land him by any means have our entire and utmost sympathy."

The committee went into executive session to discuss the German phase of the Bergdoll case with Gen. Allen.

Gen. March was asked by Brig. Gen. Henry T. Allen, commanding Gen. Coblenz, has been censured for apologizing to German authorities for the attempt to kidnap Bergdoll.

Other witnesses were Edward S. Bailey, law partner of Samuel T. Ansell, ex-acting judge advocate general of the army and counsel for Bergdoll, and Col. Julius A. Penn, assistant to Major Gen. Harris, adjutant general of the army.

Mr. Bailey, concluding his testimony, reiterated that Judge John W. Westcott of New Jersey discussed plans for the expedition to the mountains before the escape. Judge Westcott had testified that he knew nothing of any so-called buried treasure until he read it in the newspapers after Bergdoll had eluded his military guard at Philadelphia a year ago.

Wanted Officer in Party

Col. Penn declared he had suggested to the commandant of the disciplinary barracks at Governor's Island that a commissioned officer be placed in charge of the guard accompanying Bergdoll to the mountains, and that the suggestion "practically amounted to an order."

When Ansell applied to Gen. Harris for authority to permit Bergdoll to make the search, Col. Penn said, the adjutant general said it was "a reasonable request by a responsible lawyer," and the witness added that it so appeared to him at the time.

Gen. March declared that when Gen. Harris brought up the Ansell request he only glanced at it, and that he had full authority in such matters. But when word reached him of the escape, the military machinery was set in motion at once in the effort to capture the convict.

Chairman Peters brought out that while the Bergdoll gold hunting expedition was to proceed direct from Governor's Island, N. Y., to Hagerstown, Md., by way of North Philadelphia, the military authorities were not notified that Bergdoll had been permitted to stop over at Philadelphia, his mother's home.

Mr. Bailey declared that the late D. Clarence Gibboney of Philadelphia, Bergdoll's attorney, was responsible for the stop-over and the first word received from Gibboney regarding the change in the plan was the announcement that the prisoner was missing.

"Ansell was the guiding spirit in this litigation, was he not?" the witness was asked.

"Not exactly that. Mr. Ansell was selected because of his familiarity with military law. Ansell had confidence in Gibboney and none of us had reason to doubt his standing."

"Since Ansell had confidence in Gibboney and Gen. Harris had confidence in Ansell, wasn't the result one of mistaken confidence?"

"I think myself there has been misplaced confidence, or at least poor judgment," Bailey replied. "If Gibboney had not been sure of Bergdoll's acquittal, then he was the most consummate actor I ever saw."

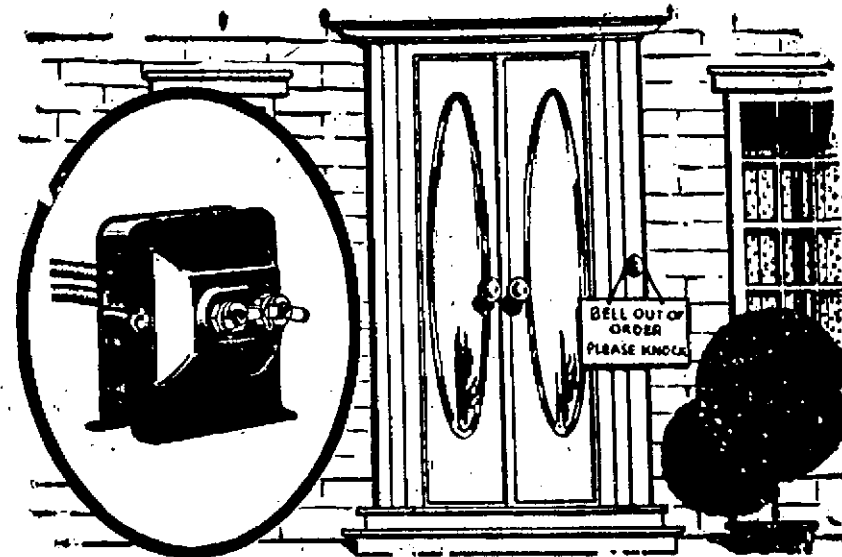

Reverting to Judge Westcott's testimony that he knew nothing about the plot of gold story prior to the escape, Gen. John H. Sherburne, counsel for the committee, asked:

"Was the gold mentioned at the conference with Judge Westcott, at which plans were discussed for the release to hunt it?"

"Why, absolutely," Mr. Bailey replied. "There was no question about it. Judge Westcott was there all the time we were talking about it."

Recipe Contest Proves Great Success

A total of seventy-eight entries testified to the popularity of the event. These entries came in from all parts of the wide section of New England where Chelmsford Ginger Ale and Ten Popular Flavors are sold and known.

The seventy-eight entries involved a total of one hundred and twenty-four separate recipes. As each entry was received it was stamped and numbered by the contest manager and locked up. At the end of the time-limit, faithful copies of the recipes were made and each was given a number corresponding to the number on the original. These numbers also serve to establish the order in which the entries were received.

The copies are now in the hands of the judges. None of the judges will know from whom any recipe was received. They will make their awards according to the number on the recipes.

Naturally, with so many recipes to be dealt with, some little time will be required to determine the winners. Every effort is being made to hasten the work and, as soon as the judges reach a decision, full particulars will be published in this newspaper.

$105,000 TO BERGDOLLS

Treasury Turned Over Gold to Mother of Draft Evader and Friend

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The fact was established yesterday, through W. L. Alexander, a clerk in the treasury department, by the house committee investigating the escape of Grover C. Bergdoll, that the mother of the draft dodger and a friend actually obtained $105,000 in gold from the treasury in the fall of 1919. But from there the trail was not uncovered by the committee to the buried pot in the mountains of Maryland.

James Romig, formerly a police magistrate of Philadelphia, and now awaiting sentence on conviction of conspiracy to aid Bergdoll in evading the draft, was the agent, Alexander said, through whom $15,000, the first batch of gold, was obtained and carried away.

On his second trip to Washington Romig was accompanied by Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll, also awaiting sentence for conspiracy, and together they drove to Philadelphia with $50,000 in gold tucked beneath their feet.

Had Trouble Getting Gold

When he made his first visit to the treasury, Romig found clerks unwilling to turn over even $20,000 on their own responsibility, and Alexander said, he fumed about the corridors until he applied the was laid before R. C. Leffingwell, then an assistant secretary, and approved. This amount was given in exchange for gold certificates, but once it had been placed within an automobile Romig went back for more. There was some delay, according to the witnesses, clerks refusing to make a second exchange of the order, but in the end Romig got the gold.

There was no embargo at that time on the withdrawal of government gold, but the policy of the department, as explained by Alexander, was to keep it in the vaults, whenever possible.

Three weeks after his first visit, Romig returned with Mrs. Bergdoll. It was brought out that at the very moment the woman was at the treasury, big posters were displayed everywhere offering a reward for the capture of Bergdoll, the deserter.

Romig, satisfied with the results of his first trip, pushed a bundle of bills, almost as big as a box, through the wicket window and after some delay, Alexander said, with the approval of the treasurer, struggled down the corridors with more gold than a stevedore could lift, $50,000, mostly eagles.

What became of the treasure after the Romig-Bergdoll party left, Washington was not brought out at the six-hour session yesterday.

Sore Bergdoll Had Gold

Counsel for Bergdoll already had told the committee they were convinced the gold had been taken from the treasury by a burglar.

The gold chapter was related just after Major General March, chief of staff of the army, had given his views on the subject of getting Bergdoll back from Germany to serve his five-year sentence, and had declared that diplomatic moves now are under way to get him. Bergdoll was described as a "bad specimen of deserter" by the

One of the most prominent commodities in the high cost of living that is lower in price, is that of food, which is a blessing to the majority of people, as they will soon be able to afford better meals, but what good is a fine meal if you suffer from indigestion and stomach troubles. You can easily be relieved of these disorders and keep your stomach and digestive organs healthy by taking SEVEN MARKS, nature's remedy of roots and herbs.

The stomach is where digestion begins, but the most important work is done by the bowels, liver and kidneys—failure of these to act efficiently allows the whole body to be poisoned and it is subjected to serious trouble. But if you will take from 10 to 25 drops of SEVEN MARKS in a little water after meals, you may eat and enjoy your favorite food without fear of serious results.

Stomach disorders, if neglected, lead to kidney and bladder troubles. If you are compelled to arise from your slumber once or twice during the night, have dark rings around the eyes, feet or legs swell, palpitation of the heart, it proves your kidneys are affected. SEVEN MARKS will relieve you and keep you well. Ask your druggist for it. Price 60 cents.—Adv.

FAILS IN ATTEMPT TO ARRANGE SETTLEMENT

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Representatives of the Marine Workers' organizations left Washington today as a result of the announcement of Secretary Davis that his efforts to arrange a settlement of the wage dispute between the workers and the ship owners had been unavailing and that no further conferences would be held at this time.

Officials of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association declared that no concessions would be made beyond those presented to Mr. Davis and Admiral Benson of the shipping board yesterday. These proposals, based on a vote being taken among locals at all ports, were not made public. Chairman Benson is understood to have reiterated his stand for a flat 15 per cent wage reduction.

Secretary Davis indicated that negotiations would be reopened later if circumstances warranted such a step.

STATE COUNCIL K. OF C. OPENS CONVENTION

BOSTON, May 10.—Massachusetts state council, Knights of Columbus, will open its 25th annual convention today at the Hotel Somerset, with 116 councils, represented by 300 delegates, taking part.

The meeting opened at 9 o'clock this morning with the celebration of mass in St. Cecilia's church. At the conclusion the delegates adjourned to the Hotel Somerset where the business session was opened by Judge William J. Day, state deputy.

Judge Day will preside at a state convention for the last time, having declined to be a candidate for re-election. He will be succeeded by William C. Prout, the present state secretary, the only candidate for the office, who will probably be elected by a unanimous vote. District Deputy Edward J. Leary of Springfield.

Bradford of Cambridge is the single candidate for state secretary.

The chief contests in the convention will be the election of the eight delegates to the supreme convention, which will be held in August in San Francisco. Eleven candidates had announced their intention of entering the field last evening, and the number will probably be increased before the voting is under way.

The candidates thus far are Hugh J. McKinnon and James A. Sullivan of Boston; John J. Donahue of Dorchester; William T. Callahan of Turners Falls; G. Fred Dill of Westfield; Jeremiah J. Foley of Whitinsville; William F. Kelley of Jamaica Plain; Thomas A. Haggerty of North Adams; Michael P. Kennedy of Northfield; Francis P. McKinnon of Worcester and Sylvester J. McGinnis of North Attleboro.

Other officers who are unopposed in the election are: State treasurer, Thomas F. McGrath of Newburyport; state warden, John S. Quinn of Boston; state auditor, Timothy J. Collins of Northampton; state adjutant, James E. Dunne of Springfield.

The Bon Marche
DAY 6000-2000

day night of this week as the date of a public hearing, saying as he did so, that he believed that there was considerable to be said on both sides of the question.

There was not perfect unanimity of action, however, on the order introduced by Commissioner John A. Salmon, that the sum of $20,000 be borrowed for the construction of a fire engine house in the Highlands district. For here, Mayor Thompson reiterated his previous feelings that the cost was excessive and while he favored the site and realized the need of a house of some sort, he did not feel that enough money could be saved, by slicing extras in the plans, to buy a piece of apparatus. When the order came up for a vote, the mayor was recorded against it, with the four commissioners voting in favor.

William N. Flagg, through his counsel, Stanley E. Qua, petitioned the council that his request for a pension as a call fireman be taken from the table and some action recorded. In an opinion submitted by the city solicitor, it was brought out that Mr. Flagg's petition was not received until after the date he was removed from the force, along with the other callmen, and, therefore, the council had no authority to grant such a pension.

Given Leave to Withdraw

The law states, the solicitor wrote, that the petitioner must hold the position at the time of petition.

On motion of Commissioner Salmon, the petitioner was given leave to withdraw.

A hearing was set for May 17, on the petition of William H. Bamford, a permanent fireman at the Lincoln street house, to be retired. A communication from Dr. Michael A. Tighe, city physician, and another from A. Leo Brett, M.D., both stated that the petitioner is unfit for active work. Mr. Bamford has been a permanent man on the force since 1917.

When the order to borrow $20,000 for the construction of the Highlands fire house was reached, Mayor Thompson said he had expressed himself as opposed to the expenditure of such a large sum of money at previous meetings, and felt that same way now.

Believes Cost Too Great

"Although I favor a house on the site selected," said the mayor, "I believe the cost is too great. It seems to me that not including the apparatus to be purchased, we are planning for too expensive a building. That is my only objection to the passage of the order. I feel, also, that extras can be taken out of the plans to such a degree that enough money can be saved to purchase a piece of apparatus."

Commissioner Salmon replied that he has been over the plans very carefully and he could not see any opportunity for curtailment without damaging the appearance of the house in such a residential section.

The order, then passed, four to one, the mayor voting "no."

Subsequently it was voted to empower the commissioner of water works and fire protection and the commissioner public property and licenses to enter into contracts with the following firms, who stood as the low bidders on the general contract work, plumbing and electrical work, respectively: Frederick F. May, $24,422; J. J. Spillane & Co., $26,617; Charles H. May & Co., $491.

The city clerk was ordered to advertise the same.

Mayor Was Absent

Mayor Thompson then asked permission of the council to read a statement relative to an important matter that came up for consideration at last week's meeting.

"I was absent from the last meeting of the council," the mayor said, "being summoned by the government as a witness in the Tollen murder trial, now in progress in East Cambridge."

"At this meeting of the council just referred to, there came before this body what I consider was and is a matter of vital importance to all the people of Lowell, the laborer and taxpayer alike. This matter I cannot help but feel was not carefully considered or properly disposed of. I refer to the communication relating to the construction of permanent paving in this city."

"I therefore move that the communication be taken from the table."

This was voted unanimously.

Continuing, the mayor said:

An Important Matter
"Gentlemen, this is a very important matter, and in a matter of so much importance we cannot shirk or shift our responsibilities. The charter plainly states that the policies of every department shall be determined by the municipal council? It is therefore, our duty to act and not to evade."

"It seems to me we have before us a straight forward business proposition which must be treated as such. Fortunately, it harms no one and will, I believe, be helpful and beneficial to all."

"My interpretation of this communication is that it is not a question of contract work as against city labor. It is rather a problem of economical street construction, giving our citizens a dollar of value for every dollar spent. Let us find out if our permanent paving can be done more efficiently this way."

"If it can it does not mean less employment, but more work for our citizens; hundreds of whom we are now unable to employ in any of the city departments."

Favors Lowell Labor
"I would personally oppose any plan that did not provide for the employment of Lowell labor, outside of those necessary for general supervision of the work."

"Our citizens are entitled to the best street construction at as low a cost as possible. I maintain we shall do better by our city employees, laborers and taxpayers in general if we meet this issue squarely and do the right thing from a public viewpoint."

"I therefore believe that we should try the experiment of paving Chelmsford street in this manner. If it is a success, more Lowell men will be employed on our street, thereby relieving to some extent the distressing condition of unemployment now existing in our city, and also pave more streets this year."

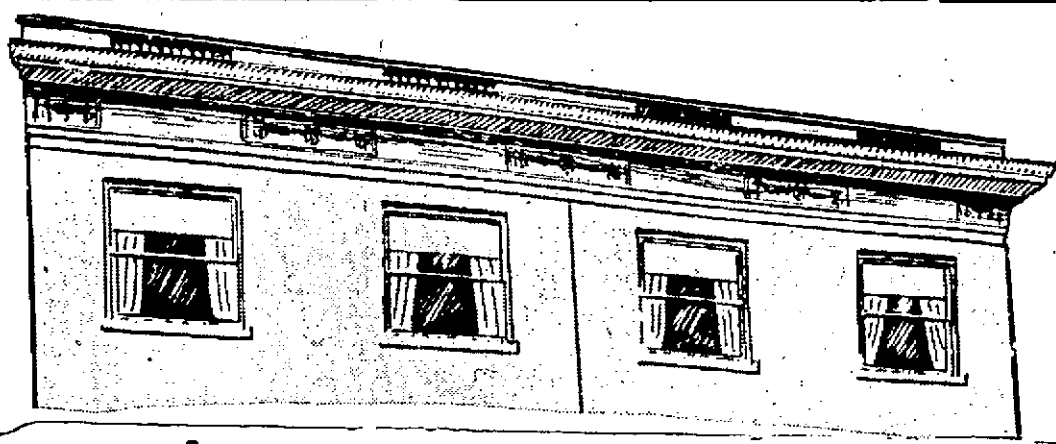

"If the cost of our street construction can be cut in half, our duty is plainly before us, should at least try the experiment, there is no other alternative."

"I move that the commissioner of streets and highways, be directed to call for bids for the pavement of Chelmsford street with permanent pavement, in accordance with specifications."

INVOKING THE INITIATIVE

There is a strong sentiment in favor of applying the initiative as provided in the city charter to compel the municipal council to adopt the more economical method of street paving suggested by the chamber.

When the chamber of commerce finds a thoroughly responsible contractor willing to lay granite-block paving at less than half the cost at which it is laid by the city employees, the taxpayers naturally object to paying out two dollars where by a different method one would suffice.

The question arises as to whether there is any appeal left the citizens to compel the city council to adopt the cheaper method by calling in a contractor or else by having the department do the work at half the price incurred last year.

Had the municipal council shown a willingness to find a means of laying granite-block paving as cheaply as the Haskins company can lay it, there would have been no complaint against its action; but instead, it placed the chamber of commerce communication on file and proceeded as if the incident were closed.

The taxpayers will not stand that treatment and consequently, the whole council should take the matter up in order to protect the interests of the electorate. Failing to do this, the members leave themselves liable to compulsion under the application of the initiative provided in Section 60 of the city charter.

The first step would be an initiative petition supported by 20 per cent of the vote cast for mayor at the last preceding municipal election. That would compel the city council either to pass the measure forthwith and the end sought would be attained, or otherwise to call a special election at which the question would be accepted or rejected by the voters.

Just at this time, we do not think it would be expedient to inaugurate initiative proceedings, although the course of the municipal council seems to warrant such a step in the interest of the taxpayers and to prevent unnecessary outlay.

No alderman nor even the entire municipal council as a body can afford to ignore a recommendation so clearly in the interest of the general public. Commissioner Murphy, who has charge of the street department, made the statement that the chamber of commerce is not running his department. He may as well make up his mind that any body of taxpayers can apply the initiative upon him and the council with little doubt as to the compelling result on the issue involved.

There have been a few provisions in the old charter that have never been used and it would indeed be remarkable if, while we are planning to abolish the instrument, one of its provisions should be applied to compel the very men who are fighting to hold it, to obey the mandate of the people either in promptly reducing the cost of doing the paving or else in having it done under contract at $1.75 per square yard instead of $10, the estimate of the street commissioner.

THE SCHOOL TEACHERS

Mayor Thompson's tribute to the school teachers of Lowell as being a splendid body of women is well deserved. Altogether too infrequently do the school instructors get the commendation to which they are entitled. In speaking, as he has, the mayor has undoubtedly said what many citizens of Lowell would be glad to express personally.

If Lowell has cause to feel a bit ashamed of some of the things connected with its municipal affairs, there is some compensation in the just pride that it can feel in its school system. It is not without its faults; there are many opportunities for improvement; but measured by the gauge of educational conditions in other cities we have full cause for satisfaction.

Plainly enough the success of the schools depends not so much upon the activities of the school committee and higher officials, important as these are, as it does upon the efforts of the individual teachers. Clearly enough these have been wisely put forth and directed and have been made in a spirit of devotion and often self-sacrifice that arouses feelings of commendation and gratitude in all who have the welfare of the younger generation at heart.

It is to the credit of Lowell teachers that there were no such wholesale desertions from posts of duty in this city during the war as in many other places in which the lure of higher salaries in private or government lead to the closing of schools because instructors were not available. Neither have we had so much as a shadow of a hint that any teacher of this city has become, even in the slightest degree, either intentionally or unwittingly, a propagandist for "Red" doctrines as it has been charged, with apparent truth, has been the case in other cities.

It is to the credit of the teachers, too, that they toiled through the war period with salaries much lower than the average throughout the state and that only recently has their pay been brought up to the level of that of instructors in other places comparable with this city.

All honor to the school teachers who are moulding the generation that is to make the Lowell of the future.

THE DRUG HABIT

From Washington comes the information that the number of drug addicts is becoming alarming, the bootleggers engaging in this business as well as in that of dispensing illicit booze. Director Nutt of the Narcotic Field Force at Washington sends out a note of alarm at the rapid increase in the drug habit among young men. It is alleged that there are about a million addicts in this country today and the question is what can be done to stop it. Those who are conversant with the evil say that it takes but ten to thirty days to form the habit and its enslavement, but years with almost superhuman will power to rise superior to its allurements.

One of the things responsible for spreading the habit is the vicious falsification perpetuated since De Quincey's time.

SEEN AND HEARD

The supreme court, not women, has the last word.

The trouble is not in our laws, but in their non-enforcement.

Another fellow who draws our envy is the chauffeur of a vacation tour.

Spring having swept north again, we approach the period of straws—sodas and hats.

Another thing to which we point with pride at this season is our ability to distinguish between toast and toastmaster.

A fable: Once upon a time a man admitted he accepted a political job for the salary it paid.

He hated himself.

"That fellow," said a fraternal brother, "is the most egotistical young fellow I ever met." "Why so?" asked the other man. "Why yesterday on his birthday he sent a collect message congratulating his mother."

Very Good Idea.

"Well, Jimmy," said the visitor, "I understand you have a new baby here."

"Yes," said Jimmy.

"Who does he look like, your father or your mother?" asked the visitor.

"I don't know yet," said Jimmy.

"He seems kind of undecided yet," said Jimmy.

"He told me he has your father's nose," said Jimmy.

"Yes," said Jimmy.

"He has your mother's mouth and nose and ears, and between you and me, I'm for giving him grandpa's teeth. He ain't got any of his own, and grandpa's got two sets."

Fashions to Please All.

Lady Duff-Gordon said at a luncheon:

"The fashions are gradually becoming more modest. There are nothing like so shocking as they were last year."

A young woman went into a very smart shop on day last season and said to the saleswoman:

"I want to buy an afternoon gown of the very latest fashion."

"Yes, madam," said the saleswoman.

"And does madam prefer a gown that is altogether too short or one that is altogether too transparent?" She stood both kinds.

Not All His Fault.

Man is the imperfect animal, right enough, yet his fair mate has a few faults of her own and some are hers alone.

"You madam," said the saleswoman, "I thought you were a man of your own mind."

AUX ITALIENS

At Paris it was, at the opera there; And she looked like a queen in a book that night.

With the wreath of pearl in her raven hair; And the brooch on her breast so bright.

Of all the operas that Verdi wrote, The best, to my taste, is the Trovatore;

And Mario can soothe, with a tender note, The souls in purgatory.

The moon on the tower slept soft as snow; And who was not thrilled in the strangest way,

As we heard him sing, while the gas burned low, Non ti scordar di me?

The Emperor there, in his box of state, Looked grave; as if he had just Threw the red flag wave from the city gate, Where his eagles bronze had been.

The Empress, too, had a tear in her eye; You'd have said that her fancy had Gone back again, For on moment, under the old blue To the old glad life in Spain.

Well, there in our front-row box we sat, Together, my bride betrothed and I;

My gaze was fixed on my opera hat, And hers on the stage hard by.

And both were silent, and both were sad; Like a queen she leaned on her full

White arm, With that regal, indolent air she had; So confident of her charm.

I have no doubt she was thinking then Of her former lord, good soul that

He was, Who died the richest and roundest The Marquis of Carabas.

I hope that to get to the kingdom of heaven, Through a needle's eye he had not

To pass; I wish him well for the journey given To my lady of Carabas.

Meanwhile, I was thinking of my first love, As I had not been thinking of aught

For years, Till over my eyes there began to move Something that felt like tears.

I thought of the dress that she wore last time, As when we stood 'neath the cypress

In that lost land, in that soft clime, In the crimson evening weather;

Of that muslin dress (for the eve was hot); And her warm white neck in its

Golden chain; And her full soft hair, just tied in And falling loose again;

And the jasmine flower in her fair young breast; And the sweet smell of that

Jasmine flower; And the one bird singing alone in his nest;

And the one star over the tower. I thought of our little quarrels and Strife, And the letter that brought me back my ring;

And I seemed then, in the vast of life, Such a very little thing!

For I thought of her grave below the hill, Which the sentinel cypress tree Stands over; And I thought, "Were she only living now!"

How I could forgive her and love her!"

And I swear, as I thought of her thus, In that hour, And of how, after all, old things

Are best, That I smell the smell of that jasmine flower

And she used to wear in her breast, It smelt so faint, and it smelt so Good, It made me creep, and it made me cold!

Like the scent that steals from the crumbling sheet Where a mummy is half unrolled.

And I turned and looked: she was sitting there, In a dim box over the stage; and

I dressed, In that muslin dress, with that full soft hair,

And that jasmine in her breast. I was here, and she was there;

And the glittering horse-shoe curved between: From my bride betrothed, with her

Even hair, And her sumptuous, scornful mien, To my early love with her eyes downcast, And over her primrose face the shade, (In sport from the future back to the past),

There was but a step to be made. To my early love from my future

Bride, One moment I looked. Then I stole in the door,

I traversed the passage; and down at her side, I was sitting, a moment more.

My thinking of her, or the music's strain, Or something which never will be expressed, Had brought her back from the grave With the jasmine in her breast.

She is not dead, and she is not well! But she loves me now, and she

And the first word that she said to me was: "I love you!"

ASSAULTS TARIFF BILL

Sen. Moses Declares Arrogant Lobby Is Pushing Measure Through

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Charges that the emergency tariff bill is being pushed through congress by "one of the most highly organized, best paid and most arrogant lobbies which this capital ever has seen," were made in the senate yesterday by Senator Moses of New Hampshire.

The American Dyes Institute has spent "the not inconsiderable sum of $101,922" in pressing forward the bill, the senator said.

"While representatives of the dyes industry have been crying for help," he said, "their business men have spent $101,922 in what they euphemistically describe as legislative expenditures. In this connection it is worth noting that the largest items of expenditure were those for counsel fees, which amounted to $50,000, divided in equal parts, one paid to Joseph H. Choate, Jr., as his compensation to October 10, 1920, and the other to Judge J. Harry Covington of this city, who descended from the federal bench in order to take the more lucrative employment which this client affords."

Senator Moses declared that the "moving spirit" of the institute was Morris R. Poucher of whom he said:

"He is also with the Dupont Company, the Dyes Institute, the Textile Alliance, the advisory committee of the war trade board and it is now proposed to make him the doorway to the war trade board."

New conditions which the board has set up for obtaining licenses, the senator said, require that the applicants must first apply to the American Dyes Institute.

"In his various capacities," Mr. Moses continued, "the way will be open to Mr. Poucher to know not only the details of the business of every dye manufacturer, but to secure an accurate line of the consumer as well. If this is to be the policy of the war trade board, the dye consumers might as well understand in the beginning that the entire dyestuffs industry has been turned over to one man."

Mr. Moses declared the tariff bill to be "both unrepresentative and undemocratic and might be un-American as well."

He attacked the republican leadership for appointing as a tariff and tax advisers men who were brought into the work by Senator Underwood, then the chairman of the house ways and means committee and other democrats. He charged they had furnished unreliable statistics on which the senate financing committee had based its bill.

Recalling that he had opposed the bill in the previous congress, Mr. Moses said he had hoped when his reconsideration was begun by the senate finance committee that he would be able "to swallow it, even though holding my nose while voting for it."

His appearance, however, did not justify his hope, he said.

Senator Knox, republican, Pennsylvania, who sponsored the dye restrictions amendment, told the senate he did not approach the question from the stand "of a Dolly Varden called mill up in New England."

He defended the amendment as one step toward building up an industry in the United States.

The bill was introduced by Senator Lodge. The claim has been made by the United States court of claims and the bill now goes to the house.

Woodrow Wilson had the vision of what the dyestuff industry meant," Mr. Knox said. "Twice he called to the attention of congress the need of aiding it."

While there's a window to look through and a world outside to see Life will hold fact and fancy and color to interest me. And though I'm bound to an invalid's chair, I do not whine or sigh But only sit at the window sill and watch the world go by: For high adventure goes swinging past with eyes that burn and glow, And young love whispers and young hearts leap and young feet saunter slow.

And life is a panorama brave that never will weary me While there's a window to look through, and a world outside to see.

Beauty shall stir and thrill me and power shall move in pride, And in ten thousand faces it shall be mine to read: Goodness and joy and sorrow, evil and lust and greed, I cannot join the caravan that endlessly moves along But I can share in its hopes and dreams, and out of the swirling I sense the favor of True Romance—and this shall ever be While there's a window to look through, and a world outside to see!

HAITIAN CHARGES "ROT"

Sec. Denby Says Conduct of Marines Above Reproach and Credit to Corps

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Characterizing as "rot" charges made by three Haitian delegates in a memorial to the White House, state department and congress protesting against American occupation of Haiti, Secretary Denby declared yesterday that the navy department welcomed any investigation that congress might care to make of conditions in that republic.

"It is the same old rot," Mr. Denby declared, "and I am sick of having this thing recur, to disprove and deny again."

The memorial, which was presented by Dr. Paulus Ganneau, former Haitian secretary for foreign affairs, and other delegates representing the Patriotic union of Haiti, demanded the withdrawal of United States military forces from that republic and charged a long series of atrocities by American marines and the native gendarmerie in Haiti.

He spoke at 11 and 3 o'clock on the "History of Legal Rights." He will speak again today and tomorrow before the student body.

WARNS U. S. PRODUCERS

Germany Working to Regain Ascendency in Non-ferrous
Metal Markets

ST. LOUIS, May 9.—Germany is taking active measures to regain ascendancy in the non-ferrous metal markets of the world, and is only delaying her plans until the reparations question is settled, according to Stephen S. Tutthill of New York, secretary of the American Zinc Institute, who addressed a convention of the organization here today.

He warned American producers that their trade was threatened and asserted that in recent Germany and Belgium were conducting negotiations for a re-establishment of their former trade relations in the metal market. "The American Zinc Institute," he said, "through private channels and confirmation in Washington, has obtained proof that Germany plans to re-establish her once famous 'Kartell' or European convention-syndicate control, better known as the 'Metallgesellschaft' with headquarters at Hamburg and Liege and with offices in the principal cities of the world.

"The object will be to again obtain dominance over the non-ferrous metal trade, particularly zinc.

"One of the highest officials in Washington has confirmed this and he informed the institute a few days ago that prospects for a foreign market for American zinc are not bright."

Prior to the war, Mr. Tutthill explained, the 'metallgesellschaft' exerted an influence in non-ferrous metals reaching across the world, controlling the output of zinc in Germany, Belgium, France and England.

This, he said, left little market for the American output.

TWO STEERS SHOT AFTER CHASE IN BRIGHTON

BOSTON, May 10.—Two wild steers, racing through the streets of North Brighton, after escaping from cattle cars at the Brighton abattoir, yesterday, caused many thrills before being stopped by policemen's bullets.

One of them took to the Charles river, swam a considerable distance and was killed while running through Arsenal street in Watertown.

The other took the opposite direction and running through North Beacon street was finally killed on Quint avenue in Allston. Luckily no one was injured during the chase.

The steers were being unloaded from a car on the abattoir grounds shortly after 4:30. One quickly mounted the hill at the entrance and reached Market st, thence running into North Beacon st.

The animal turned into Herrick st, where several children were at play. The children screamed and sought places of safety. The steer turned back to North Beacon st, and was met at the corner by Patrolman Charles E. Harris of Station 14.

Harris pulled his revolver and fired at the steer, hitting him in the jaw. This failed to stop the animal and only caused him to speed up.

Harris gave chase in an automobile, and again came abreast of the maddened animal on Quint ave. in Allston. Jumping out of the machine, the officer ran ahead of the steer, and turning, sent a bullet through its brain.

The other steer, after leaving the Charles river, was noticed racing around over the marshland along the riverbank. When it came up on the street at the foot of the Arsenal bridge, there was a wild scramble among pedestrians to get out of his way.

Sgt. Daniel McLeod of the metropolitan police, who is on motorcycle duty, gave chase. He fired three shots and two went wild of their mark. The third brought the animal down.

What's Your Opinion?

What do you think about each state following in the lead of Delaware and instituting a whipping post for wife-beaters, pickpockets and highwaymen?

"If the rod is administered," Judge Fawcett says, "the criminal won't forget."

"Men go to Sing Sing and come out time and again with a feeling they have not been punished, but have been given a pleasant asylum. Then they repeat their crimes."

"In England in 1913 they restored the whipping post. I have learned that resuming the lash no man has returned for another beating. In our own state of Delaware we still have a whipping post, and as a result there is less crime in Delaware than in any other community of its size in America. Hoboes, wife-beaters, pickpockets, burglars, hate Delaware as a result."

"A burglar whom I know was once lashed in that state. Then he sent word to all his gang not to go to Delaware as the punishment, lasting only a few minutes, was worse than life imprisonment elsewhere."

"Now, instead of giving a fourth offender a life sentence as the law requires me to do, I would recommend six months in jail with a lashing every 30 days."

"At the end of his six months' imprisonment..."

"Every State Should Have Whipping Post," Says N. Y. Supreme Justice

WHIPPING POST IN ACTION AT WILMINGTON, DEL.

NEW YORK, May 10.—What is the cure for crime?

"Lay the lash upon the felon's back! Administer sharp physical pain, and thereby purge the criminal of his desire for evil deeds. If you do that you will protect innocent citizens against the criminal's depredations. Every state should have its whipping post."

Such is the frankly spoken opinion of Supreme Court Justice Lewis L. Fawcett of Brooklyn.

His statement has aroused a whirlwind of comments. "How awful," says Judge Jean Norris of the women's court, "still it might help," she adds.

"We've got beyond the days of brutality. The stocks and the whipping post belong to the inquisition," says District Attorney Swann.

"Advocacy of the whipping post is discouraging to those who are inclined to believe the world progresses toward enlightenment," answers George W. Wickesham, former attorney general of the United States.

prisonment when he gets the last lash. He will leave jail, in pain, of course, but cured of a desire to do wrong again."

He'd Spare Women

Justice Fawcett added that he would never whip a woman under any circumstances.

What do the Delaware records show? Has crime increased there? Last fall Wilmington was overrun by hold-up men from Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York. It wasn't safe for anybody to be on the streets after dark.

With gun and blackjacks, the records show, crooks kept up a reign of terror.

Then the legislature passed the law making highway robbery punishable by 20 years in prison and 40 lashes on the bare back.

The highwaymen disappeared like dunes of snow before the morning sun.

PROBE FLOODING OF STEAMER WILLIMANTIC

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., May 9.—An open engine room port caused the flooding of the shipping board steamer Willimantic at her dock here Friday night. Investigation has disclosed. Nothing to show how the port came to be left open has been discovered. It was said today. The ship was loading coal and had no crew aboard at the time. The weight of her cargo sent her down until the port was submerged. She has been pumped out and will be repaired.

500 ACRES OF TIMBER DESTROYED

BANGOR, Me., May 9.—Fires at Brewer Lake and Phillips Lake are believed to be under control at present, helped by a smart shower this afternoon. One tract of about 500 acres, mostly standing pulp timber, is believed to have been destroyed, says D. A. Sargent, owner. Large forces are now watching against a further outbreak of the four mile line.

Charm of Motherhood

THERE are many homes once childless that now are blessed with healthy, happy children, because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored the mother to a healthy, normal physical condition.

The following letters give the experience of two young women and prove the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases.

Chicago, Ill.—"I was always tired, my head always ached, and my back ached until I could hardly stand the pain. I doctored for years, and the doctor said nothing but an operation would help me, and that I could not have children. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took six bottles of it and it helped me wonderfully, and I now have a fine baby boy, thanks to what your medicine did for me in restoring my health. I can highly recommend the Compound to all women who suffer from female ills."—Mrs. Wm. Reiss, 304 Willow St., Chicago, Ill.

Marinette, Wis.—"I was in a very nervous condition, was irregular, and could not have any children. I took doctor's medicine without success, and he advised an operation. My husband brought me one of your booklets and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon felt benefitted by its use, became regular, and now we have a fine baby girl after having been married nine years. I am always glad to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to my friends who suffer from such troubles."—Mrs. H. B. Held, 330 Jefferson St., Marinette, Wis.

FIND BODY OF MISSING WOMAN

BROCKTON, May 10.—The body of Miss Hannah Doady, 52-year-old Brockton saleswoman, who has been missing since last Thursday morning, was found last night in the Town river in West Bridgewater. A wire netting had been stretched across the river a short distance below the falls and the body lodged against that.

Medical Examiner Faine of Brockton viewed the body and stated that death was apparently due to suicide by drowning. No trace of foul play could be found on the woman, the police say, but her head was badly bruised and her clothing torn to shreds. The police and medical examiner believe that she received the bruises on her head when the body was swept over the falls and that the clothing was torn by the rocks and stones in the river bottom.

NO BANNING OF BEAUTY AIDS

Denial of Charge That Lowell Teachers Use Paint and Powder

Asserted That There Are No Diaphanous Waists or Too-Short Skirts

While no official information is obtainable on the subject, it is not denied that the movement started by Supt. Allen P. Keith of the New Bedford schools last week to ban the use of powder cosmetics, eyebrow pencils and the lipstick by school teachers will be taken up here.

Last week Supt. Keith caused a commotion in the schoolhouses of the Lowell City by issuing an edict that teachers must attend school with their faces free from artificial aids to beauty. When asked what steps would be taken to enforce the edict, he intimated that the same treatment accorded to children who attend with unclean faces would be used; namely, that they would be invited to promptly make use of soap and water and a towel. Mr. Keith also made some pointed remarks regarding the wearing of unduly abbreviated skirts by the schoolmistresses.

Had All Heard

Apparently every school teacher in Lowell has heard of Superintendent Keith's action, as set forth in the news columns of The Sun. It was a subject of discussion in many places where they converge. If Mr. Keith could have heard some of the things that were said about him by the young women he would have realized as never before the possibilities of feminine eloquence. "The mean thing I'd like to do to New Bedford teacher, I would show him something," was the way one teacher expressed her opinion.

When a clipping from The Sun, containing the despatch from New Bedford setting forth the details of Supt. Keith's action, was shown to Supt. of Schools Hugh J. Molloy, it seemed evident that he had already read the story. He merely, of course, at the headline and put no end to the possibility of an interview with the bearded comment, "I have nothing to say."

Mayor as a Defender

Mayor Perry D. Thompson gave the subject of artificial aids to beauty serious consideration when it was brought to his attention. He said that he thought the teachers of Lowell are an exceptionally fine body of women and that no fault could be found with their dress or use of cosmetics. He said that when he was a member of the school board the teachers had been above reproach in such matters and that there had been no change in this respect since that time. In his opinion, in the mayor's defense, the charges against the teachers against the charges against the teachers to make use of the arts and appliances of the beauty doctors to add to their natural attractions.

Principal Henry B. Harris of the high school was also insistent that Lowell teachers as a whole are above reproach in the intention to use the powder paint or lipstick. He said that his observation had been that none of the instructors in the high school appears in the morning with her complexion artificially embellished. He said that the same statement was true of the teachers in the Coburn school. He would not undertake to speak, however, for all the teachers in Lowell. He admitted that he had seen some where faces had had at least a once over with the powder puff, but thought that such instances were rare and that there was no occasion for the school authorities to interfere in a matter that should be left to personal tastes and opinions.

Skirts Not Too Short

That there are no unduly short skirts among the teachers in the high school was asserted by Mr. Harris. He approved of the modestly abbreviated skirts now worn as being an improvement over the skirts that trailed on the floor in other days and that caused annoyance because of oil used on the floors.

Mr. Harris also defended the girl pupils against the charge that they use cosmetics or wear diaphanous waists and shortened skirts. He said that teachers are specially detailed to keep an oversight over the young women, and if he could remember of but one instance in which a girl had been necessary to call the attention of a girl to more pinkish before the mirror than was consistent with high academic standing.

"Come and talk with some of the teachers," said Mr. Harris to The Sun representative. "Let us find out whether their opinions agree with mine."

Two teachers, Miss Marietta Cassidy and Miss Anna L. Bradley, were summoned from the class rooms. They were confident that there is no girl in Lowell of an edict such as has been issued by the New Bedford superintendent of schools. They both agreed that none of the high school instructors uses cosmetics or dresses in a way to even suggest immodesty. A very few of the pupils, it was admitted, had been known to have appeared in school with evidence on their faces that they had tarried for awhile near the mirror with talcum and rouge before starting for school. Diaphanous waists or too short skirts? Oh, never, both teachers agreed.

The bell ringing of a recess had just sounded, as The Sun representative finished talking with the teachers. The school corridor was filled with young women hurrying to their class rooms. "Look them over and see if you see any artificial complexions or peek-a-boos waists," invited Principal Harris. None was visible.

Miss Fannie A. Thompson, assistant for many years in the office of Superintendent of Schools Molloy, who knows as much about the ways of the city's school teachers as any person in Lowell, viewed the paint and powder problem from a different angle from some of the persons connected with the schools.

"I would like to shake hands with Mr. Keith," she said today. "Good for him. It is time something was done in regard to the way paint and powder are used. If children turn up in school with unclean faces they are sent home to have them washed. The same thing should be done in the case of teachers who appear with rouged complexions. It is high time that something was done to do away with the ear muffs and the peek-a-boos waists and short skirts. Only acted by sensible men can put a stop to it."

MAY MAKE USE OF INITIATIVE

Commerce Chamber to Submit Street Contract Labor Question to Referendum

Plan to Ask Voters to Dictate Municipal Policy for First Time

Fighting Spirit a Feature at Meeting Where Action Is Taken

At a meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon steps were taken to invoke the use of the initiative, as provided for in the city charter, for the first time in the history of Lowell. It means that the municipal council is authorized to authorize the construction of streets by contract labor. The directors voted to have submitted at once to the members of the chamber a referendum on the question of petitioning the city council to pass an order carrying out the policy advocated by the chamber of having the street work at the city placed in the hands of the lowest responsible bidders and in the event of the council failing to approve such an order having the matter submitted to the voters for a final decision.

Although it is not known what the action of the 1100 members of the chamber will vote on the referendum, it is anticipated that more than a majority will vote to back up the stand taken by the directors in favor of having street work done by contract. The referendum will contain the statement that it is intended that the order to be presented to the municipal council shall provide that in the event of its being adopted only Lowell laborers shall be employed by contractors on the streets.

The meeting of the directors yesterday was filled with a fighting spirit, it is reported, and it is said that in the event that the initiative is invoked a determined fight will be made to have the chamber's street policy approved by the people. It is planned to have the subject brought to the attention of all of the organizations of the city that are interested in the improvement of municipal conditions.

The provision for the use of the initiative is contained in Chapter 60 of the city charter.

The section provides that petitions signed by 20 per cent of the number of voters who cast ballots for mayor at the last election may file a petition with the city clerk asking the municipal council to adopt a measure. Slightly less than 2000 signatures would be required to get the street construction matters before the municipal council.

The chamber will pass the measure advocated within 20 days, or it may call a special election after the 20 days have passed, unless a city election is pending within 60 days, and the approval or disapproval of the measure will be passed on to the voters.

There is also a provision in the section that measures initiated by citizens may be referred to the electorate at an annual city election on petition of ten per cent of the voters voting for candidates for mayor.

If an initiative measure is approved by the voters it becomes immediately binding and effective and may not be altered or repealed except by action of the voters.

Referendum measures must be advertised in the newspapers by the city clerk.

The present movement for the invoking of the initiative had its beginning a number of months ago when the chamber of commerce had an exhaustive survey made of the city's streets by competent engineers and reported the results to the municipal council which referred the matter to Street Commissioner Murphy.

Later there was a conference in the rooms of the chamber between the street commissioner and members of the board of directors. Following this conference it was obtained from a reliable contractor to paving in the city's streets for $145,000 a year, which it is claimed, if laid by the city, would cost a considerably larger sum.

At the last meeting of the municipal council resolutions passed by the chamber's directors were presented asking the municipal council to take action to secure the paving of certain streets by contract. The resolutions were placed on file.

GOV. COX SIGNS BILL OPPOSED BY UNIONS

BOSTON, May 9.—Governor Cox today signed a bill permitting legal suits by or against voluntary associations. The bill had been opposed vigorously by labor unions as a measure aimed at defeat of the right to strike.

Answering the objections voiced by union leaders at a hearing Saturday, the governor issued a statement with the announcement that he had signed the bill.

He said: "The bill applies to all voluntary associations, whether employers or employees or of great groups who have found 'holding companies' or voluntary associations a convenient method of controlling many large corporations. Every such association ought to be held responsible for its acts and it ought to be possible to bring suit against it. A fair and legal right need have no fear of the result of this act. If a labor union were sued on a groundless claim in order to tie up its funds under attachment, I am confident our courts would exercise their power and reduce or discharge such attachment."

Wholesale Executions By Bolsheviki

STOCKHOLM, May 9.—Reports of wholesale executions by the Bolshevik participants in the recent Kronstadt uprising are contained in a private message from Helsingfors to the Tidningen today. These met with immediate denial however, from the Bolshevik agency here. The message asserted that several thousand of the Kronstadt rebels among them hundreds of women and children, had been executed, but the soviet agency says that only 13 persons, leaders of the revolt, were shot.

Hold Class of 1919 Ready for Duty

PARIS, May 9.—The army contingent of 1919, called to the colors in connection with the preparations for the possible occupation of the Ruhr valley, will in no case be sent home before July, it was stated today in official circles. Even if the Germans accept the allied ultimatum, the troops mobilized for the occupation will be held in readiness for action in case Bavaria does not disarm before June 30, the time limit fixed by the allies for completion of the disarming process, it was stated. The contingent of 1921 will by that time have been sufficiently trained to take the place of the older class, it is considered, and the 1919 class will then probably be demobilized.

"OH, HOW GRATEFUL I'LL BE," DECLARED MRS. BRUIN.

"What's wrong?" cried Flippety-Flap and the twins as the two bear boys came blubbering home. Nancy rushed to Butter-Ball, and Nick rushed to Billy-Bunch, the two of them helping the poor little swelled up fellows into the house.

"The wild bees hit us," blubbered Butter-Ball. "They bit us so hard they left their teeth in the bites and they still hurt."

"Bees have no teeth—only stingers," corrected the fairyman, "but never mind, stingers are bad enough. I'll have to get out my pullers and pull 'em all out for you, but they'll quit hurting. And Flippety-Flap took a pair of pinchers out of one of his magic shoes. Just then Mr. and Mrs. Bruin Brown Bear also arrived at the front door and dropped into chairs with groans.

"Did the bees sting you, too?" asked Nancy kindly.

"No," moaned Mrs. Bruin holding one foot tenderly with her paw and checking back and forth. "It was the thorns."

Latter Crossed Oder River Into Upper Silesia and Captured Six Poles

One of Whom Was Suspected
of Killing Germans Executed by Captors

RATIBO, Upper Silesia, May 14.—German patrols crossed the Oder river into Upper Silesia yesterday and captured six Poles, one of whom was suspected of killing a number of Germans. The leader of the patrol, a civilian 23 years of age, declared the Pole had admitted the killings. When asked what he was going to do about it, the patrol leader said:

"He was taking 10 pairs away and two men were detailed to attend to him. He disappeared but probably could be found floating down the Oder."

Italian troops here declare they have lost severely in recent fighting against the Poles, and appear to be greatly incensed. They are declared to have shown unkindness toward Polish prisoners, who are generally being handed over to them by their German captors. Ammunition has been received here from Breslau and from Oppeln and German citizens are being armed and told to defend themselves.

FOUND DEAD IN HER BED

of Mrs. Dorr Due to Acci-
dental Asphyxiation

The body of Mrs. Hester Dorr, aged 81 years, was found this morning, in her bed at her home, 217 Liberty street, by her son, Walter, and Medical Examiner Thomas B. Smith after an investigation reported her death due to accidental asphyxiation.

Mrs. Dorr lived alone and went to bed at her customary hour last evening. One of her sons, Charles, was the habit of awaking her each morning by calling her on the telephone. Failing to get a response when he called shortly before 7:30 this morning, he noticed another son, Walter, who made his way into the house and found his mother in bed, with a strong odor of gas in the room. It was found that the cock of a gas radiator was open and that gas was escaping in this way.

In conducting his investigation, Medical Examiner Smith found that the cock of the radiator was located near that of the illuminating gas in the room, and that it was very loose. In turning on or off the cock of the illuminating pipe it was easy to accidentally turn on the illuminating gas and it is believed that this was what happened last evening. The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of George W. Healey in Westford street.

Mrs. Dorr is survived by three sons, Walter H. and Charles Dorr, both of this city, and William B. Dorr of Waterbury, Conn., one brother and two sisters. Mrs. Dorr was one of the oldest members of the Worthen Street M. E. church, now united with the Highland-Union church.

Among those who attended the funeral were Francis from Springfield and Newton and Bridgeport, Conn. Burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Rev. F. WHAT GEORGE LOANE TUCKER THINKS OF "PRISONERS OF LOVE"

Los Angeles, Cal., June 24, 1920.

Mr. Alfred A. Grasso, Manager, Betty Compton Productions,
Los Angeles, Cal.

My dear Mr. Grasso:

I want to thank you for your kindness in showing me the first picture in which Miss Compton is to be starred.

I was, naturally, after her work for me in "The Miracle Man", very interested to see her first starring picture, "Prisoners of Love", and I must congratulate you on—

First — A perfect cast.

Second — Exquisite and poetic photography.

Third — A scenario of great intensity of interest and pecked with vividly dramatic scenes, which are splendidly acted and directed; and

Finally — Miss Compton, whose performance of Rose in my "Miracle Man", fairly electrified audiences and the most blasé of critics, has in "Prisoners of Love", a characterization even more difficult to play—of even greater emotional range than Rose, and I believe she gives, as Blanche, one of the greatest performances as yet seen on the screen.

She has improved marvellously in depth and power and control since the days she played Rose for me in "The Miracle Man". The problems that a girl faces who possesses an unusual amount of sex appeal are beautifully and powerfully illustrated.

Please give Miss Compton my heartiest congratulations and again let me thank you for a most enjoyable evening.

Sincerely yours,

George Loane Tucker

Continued

cations to be furnished by the engineering department, specifying that Lowell labor shall be employed with the exception of necessary general supervision of the work."

In Good Faith

When the mayor had concluded his statement, Commissioner Marchand said that the communication had been tabled at last week's meeting in good faith, with the idea, in his mind, at least, of taking it up for consideration at some future time.

Commissioner Murphy then offered the amendment that a public hearing be held on the matter, and this was voted for on the evening of Friday, May 13, the unlucky combination causing a smile or two, but no reconsideration.

Commissioner Salmon inquired if any work is being done on Central bridge.

Commissioner Murphy replied that he has been informed that the contracting company will commence its work on the bridge in about two weeks.

Patrick F. Cullinan, president of the union of stationary firemen, appeared before the council to ask whether or not the council could take some action relative to the existing labor conditions at the plant of the Lowell Gas company.

Commissioner Murphy asked what the council could do.

"I don't know," answered Mr. Cullinan.

"Have we any jurisdiction over the matter?" asked the commissioner.

"I think you have, when it is a question of protecting the property of citizens. We do not know what type of men are being hired to go into our homes to do gas repairs."

Mr. Cullinan intimated that the union might call for a hearing before the conciliation and arbitration board in the near future.

Hearings on Petitions

Hearings were held on the following petitions:

Lowell Electric Light Corp., for one pole in Eighth street. Referred.

John F. Sawyer, gasoline, 159 Fairmount street. Referred.

Omer Garlepy, gasoline, 117 Webber street. Referred.

The Lowell Buildings Investment Co. petitioned for a sewer in Westchester street. Referred to Commissioner Murphy.

Arthur Dezelle petitioned that a sidewalk be laid in White street. Referred.

George Husson petitioned that Cumiskey alley be relocated and widened. Referred to Commissioner Murphy.

Notice was read of an attachment placed upon the city of Lowell in the sum of $300 by Rose Scully, in an alleged action of tort.

The commissioner of water works and fire protection reported favorably on the following garage licenses: Kathleen G. Druewell, 9 Fifth street; L. H. Hauser, 196 Powell street.

Orders were adopted authorizing the Lowell Electric Light Corporation to erect and maintain one pole in Appleton and Middle streets.

Adjourned at 11:40 a. m. until tomorrow at 11 o'clock for the approval of monthly bills.
